Adenauer Wins By Landslide in Victory for West

Called Greatest Election Win In History of German Nation

BONN, Germany (UP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer won undisputed control of Parliament today in a landslide election victory that bound resurgent West Germany's 50 million residents to the West.

Final returns gave Adenauer's Christian Democrats a 43-seat absolute majority in the lower house (Bundestag), in perhaps the greatest election victory in German history.

It was an overwhelming endorsement of the 81-year-old Adenauer's policy of close and intense cooperation with the West and it meant he could harden his opposition to Communism for four more years.

The final count that returned Adenauer to power for a third term gave the Christian Democrats 270 seats in the Bundestag against 169 for the Socialists, 41 for the Free Democrats and 17 for the right-wing German party.

Three 'Leftovers'

Three of the seats were what the federal election office called "leftovers" from the country's complicated system of proportional representation. It boosted the number of seats in the Bundestag to 497.

In terms of the Western position in Europe the victory meant West Germany was:

—Welded firmly to the NATO pact.

—Determined to press ahead with its rearmament program and build up its 100,000 man army as a front-line barrier to Communism.

—Committed to European integration and the common market plan which turns Western Europe into an economic unity.

It was a complete rejection of Socialist calls for a new look at the German reunification problem, a plan that would take Germany out of NATO.

The Socialists gathered 31 per cent of the votes, but they were swamped by Adenauer's landslide which racked up nearly 15 million votes, or more than 50 per cent of the popular vote. The Socialists polled 9 million.

It was an immense propaganda victory for the West for Adenauer campaigned ceaselessly on the thought that to turn away from the West might turn West Germany into another Hungary.

It was a greater strategic victory for the West for it ensured

Long Distance Calls Only on Emergency Basis

(Picture on Page 2)

Approximately 60 operators and mainteance personnel refused to cross the picket lines set up by striking members of the Communications Workers of America at the Central office of the Bell Telephone Co. in Charleroi at 7:30 this morning.

The strike was called at 6 a. m. today by the CWA against Western Electric Co., equipment installers for Bell Telephone.

The company said it expected no great disruption in telephone communication in the Monessen area because of the strike. It said that dial exchanges will be worked normally, while manual operator exchanges are being handled by supervisory personnel.

The company said that automatic switchboard systems, such as used in Monessen, Charleroi and Monongahela, would not be effected by the strike.

Emergency Calls

However, long distance calls placed with the operator will be handled on an emergency basis only. Direct long distance dial calls will not be effected.

The 60 operators and maintenance men at the Charleroi office are not members of the CWA. They belong to two different independent unions. However, they refused to cross picket lines set up by the installers.

The CWA called out 23,800 installers across the nation at 6 a.m. today after an 11th-hour attempt to avert a walkout ended in failure. The union had demanded a pay boost and improved fringe benefits, but negotiations broke off in New York three hours before the strike deadline.

Wayne Sparrow, McKeesport district manager for Bell, said today that only the Charleroi central office is being picketed. He said the reason for the picketing there is because CWA workers were installing equipment when the strike deadline was reached.

Operations at the manually-operated switchboards at Belle Vernon, Donora and West Newton were not being effected by the walkout.

Sergeant Loses Rank, Fined for Mistreatments

FORT CARSON, Colo. (UP) — Sgt. Edwin C. Knutson, 21, of Alvate and fined $150 Saturday by vate wa sfined $150 Saturday by an Army court martial on conviction of mistreating recruits.

Knutson was found guilty of causing two trainees to be struck by another trainee acting as platoon leader.

The acting platoon leader pleaded guilty to mistreating his fellow trainees earlier this month and was sentenced to five months in the stockade and fined $50 a month for five months.

Knutson actually will forfeit only $50 of his pay for he is scheduled for discharge in 37 days.

Knutson was quoted as telling trainee leaders to "slap the ——— out of the other trainees."

Knutson was convicted Friday but sentence was delayed until Saturday.

White House Hits Arkansas Crisis Criticism

NEWPORT, R.I. (UP)—The White House today said a statement by the Democratic Party's Advisory Council on school integration in Little Rock, Ark., would be "funny if it were not so pathetic."

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty voluntarily offered to answer a question which he said he felt would come up on the council's statement at the regular morning press conference.

"I think it (the council's statement) would be funny if it were not so pathetic to see the Democratic Advisory Council trying to play politics in Little Rock. The President is concerned with solutions, not political speeches," Hagerty said.

Hagerty said the President had read the council's statement.

Asked whether he was expressing the feelings of the President on the statement, Hagerty would only answer:

"I think I'll stand on that."

The council statement charged Eisenhower "failed in his duty" to exercise decisive leadership in desegregaton of Litle Rock.

The press secretary was asked if he was concerned about the fact National Guard troops are still posted in front of Central High School in Little Rock. Hagerty answered:

"I think I'll have to stand on the President's statement of last Saturday. He said he was sure that it is the desire of the governor, not only to observe the supreme law of the land, but to use the influence of his office in the orderly progress of the plans which are already the subject of the order of the court."

William P. Nowe, Ex-County GOP Leader, Killed

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP)— A prominent retired businessman and a truck driver were killed early today in a head-on automobile - truck collision on Route 66 about nine miles north of here.

The victims were William P. Nowe, 77, New Kensington, and Anthony D. Detore, 22, Hannastown, Westmoreland County.

Hiram V. Hartman, 40, New Kensington, a member of the Westmoreland County Board of Tax Revision and Assessment, suffered serious head injuries and was taken to Westmoreland County Hospital.

State police said the accident occurred when the southbound automobile, operated by Hartman, failed to negotiate a curve and smashed into Detore's oncoming truck. Nowe, a passenger in the car, was killed instantly. Detore was thrown from the cab of his vehicle and the truck continued down an embankment for about 100 feet before coming to a stop. The truck driver, an employe of the Ramaley Equipment and Supply Co., New Alexandria. Westmoreland County, was dead on arrival at the hospital.

Nowe, a former Pittsburgh businessman, was active in Westmoreland County politics although he held no elected office.

Mapleview Man Gets National Veterans Post

Lou Roth of Mapleview was elected national third regional commander at the convention of Veterans of World War I in Minneapolis, Minn., last week.

The area man will head District Three which comprises the states of Delaware, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, as well as the Virgin Islands.

Roth has been very active in veterans affairs in the valley. He helped to organize Mon Valley Barracks 350 and served as its first commander.

Early this year, he was appointed as the state legislative chairman and was commended by the organization for the large amount of correspondence he directed toward congress in behalf of veterans.

More than 3,000 delegates attended the national convention at the Hotel Leamington in Minneapolis. Lewis Brake of Mt. Vernon, Ill., was elected national commander.

Resolutions were passed on the controversial pension issue, urging passages of a World War I pension. The organization is seeking a pension for all vets who served 90 days or more. They are asking for "not less than $2,400 without dependents, and $3,800 with dependents."

The World War I veterans now have 125,000 members. All valley veterans of first world war are invited to join Barracks 350.

County GOP to Hold Series of Public Rallies

Westmoreland County Republican Chairman Edwin Swink today announced plans for a series of public rallies in the next few weeks.

Swink said the rallies will be staged in the interest of GOP county candidates in the general election on Nov. 5.

On Monday, Oct. 14 a rally will be held in the American Legion home in Scottdale under the auspices of the Republicans of that borough, Mt. Pleasant, Smithton and East Huntingdon and South Huntingdon townships.

A week later, on Oct. 21, Republicans of Mt. Pleasant and Donegal boroughs, and Donegal, Mt. Pleasant and East Huntingdon townships will rally in the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall in Mt. Pleasant.

The next night, Oct. 22, will bring a dinner meeting at the Baldoc Hills Country Club near Irwin of Republicans in Irwin and North Huntingdon and Hempfield townships. North Irwin Republicans will also take part.

The public is invited to all rallies and to the dinner at the Baldoc Hills Country Club.

This week, members of the Latrobe District Council of Republican Women will hold a covered dish supper at the Robb Cottage, Lincoln Highway East, on Wednesday evening.

Brownsville High School Classes Resume Today

Classes at Brownsville High School resumed today without incident, according to school officials.

Student enrollment was described as "normal."

Classes were suspended last Tuesday when students refused to enter the building on grounds that it was unsafe. The day before two Brownsville pupils were injured by falling plaster.

The Brownsville School Board immediately hired an architectural firm to examine the building. When the architect reported the high school "structurally sound and safe," it was decided to resume classes today.

The 50-year old building has been earmarked for replacement. However a squabble between the Brownsville and Redstone school districts over a possible jointure has delayed plans for a new school.

Harry McDermott Is Hurt in Fall

Harry A. McDermott, of 600 Donner Ave., Monessen, is a patient in Charleroi-Monessen Hospital today with a head injury suffered in a fall in his home yesterday morning.

He received a deep cut.

District Woman Organizer for Young Democrats

Mrs. Betty Dolfi, Washington Twp. Democratic worker, has been named one of eight regional organizers by the Young Democrats of Pennsylvania.

She will share the leadership for the southwestern region with Virgil Moraca, Cambria County.

Genevieve Blatt, state internal affairs secretary, urged the delegates at the organization's closing sessions in Harrisburg on Saturday to continue to "place your emphasis on youth."

"The Democratic Party has always been the party of young ideas," she said. "We have built our reputation and record on our willingness and ability to work hard and aggressively in every job we undertake."

New Carroll Twp. School Is Dedicated on Saturday

Carroll Twp.'s new $801,125 Junior High School building was formally dedicated on Saturday with a program and open house.

Dr. W. H. Donaldson, superintendent of Washington County Schools, delivered the main speech at the dedicatory observance which was attended by more than 800 persons.

Dr. Donaldson praised the school district for the modern educational facilities provided the youth of the township.

E. E. Compton, Donora architect who designed the structure, presented the keys of the building to Earl L. Shea, supervising inspector of the state Public School Building Authority. In turn, Shea turned the keys over to Vincent Halverson, president of the Carroll Twp. School Board.

Earlier in the program, Dr. John Griffith, superintendent of Monongahela public schools, presented a flag and bible to the new school on behalf of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics.

Other Speakers

Also speaking were J. Wilbur Nelson, supervising principal, and Michael F. Garry Jr., junior high principal.

The invocation and benediction were pronounced by Rev. Atney Dickerson, pastor of the Sampson Union Church.

The new school building was opened to visitors following the dedication program. They were free to inspect the 19 classrooms and auxiliary units, including the auditorium - gym, cafeteria and workshop.

The building was occupied partially on Sept. 24, 1956. However it wasn't entirely completed until shortly before the start of the current school term.

Six of the nineteen classrooms are now occupied by elementary students. As the junior high population grows, these rooms will also be utilized for junior high purpose.

Local Woman Fails in Attempt To Take Life

The third attempted suicide in Monessen within a week was reported by police today.

Chief of Police Michael Kuvinka reported that Millie Hummel, 42, was unsuccessful in a suicide attempt about 12:30 yesterday morning at her home at 411 Seneca St.

Police were summoned to the Hummel home by an unidentified telephone operator. When Patrolman Joseph Ezzo arrived, he found the woman with her head face down on open gas jets on the kitchen stove.

Ezzo gave the woman artificial respiration until an ambulance arrived to take her to Charleroi-Monessen Hospital for additional treatment.

She was released from the hospital last night.

A disorderly conduct charge was placed against her.

In other unsuccessful suicide attempts last week, William Shaw, 33, of 129 McKee Ave., attempted to hang himself and Mrs. Dolores Toney, 25, of Park Manor, consumed 61 aspirins. They, too, were booked on disorderly conduct charges after being released from the hospital.

Final Registration To Vote Tonight

This is the final day for new Westmoreland County voters to register in order to be eligible for the general election on Nov. 5.

The registration office at the courthouse in Greensburg will remain open tonight until 9 p.m.

LADIES Aux., Legion McKee Post, meet Tuesday 8 p. m. at Post. Home.

Four Arrested in Fayette Robberies

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (UP)—Four Connellsville, Pa., men were arrested during the week end and charged with terrorizing and robbing two Fayette County households.

State police identified the suspects as Earl Shellenberger, 19, Charles Redman, 20, Donald Yingling and Patsy Virgillo, 23. An information filed with Squire cused them of armed robbery, burglary and larceny.

Troopers said the suspects stole an auto in Connellsville last Thur day night and raided the home of Ralph Mitts in Scottdale RD 1.

Mrs. Goldie Miller, 69, alone in the Mitts home, fled in her nightgown to a neighbor's home when the men broke in. The men took a rifle, shotgun and pistol from the Mitts home and after testing the weapons outdoors drove to the home of Mrs. Opal Galley at Vanderbilt RD 1.

'Fattest Man' Is On Display Here

The "world's fattest man" arrived in Monessen today for a three-day visit under the sponsorship of the Allison-Lescanac Post 1190, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The "fat man" will see visitors at his special trailer in front of the G. C. Murphy Co. store today, tomorrow and Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

On Wednesday at 7 p.m. he will put on a special water show at Ninth St. Park.

The "fat man" weighs 763 pounds and has a waist which measures 104 inches.

Minor Accident Here Yesterday

One minor traffic accident happened in Monessen over the week-end, police reported today.

The lone mishap occurred at Third St. and Donner Ave. about 4:15 yesterday morning and involved cars operated by Lynward Greene Jr., of 619 Marguerite St., Monessen, and John Weir, of Webster.

Zoning Hearing Here Tomorrow

The Monessen Planning Commission will hold the first of a series of public hearings on the proposed zoning ordinance tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in the Council chambers at the City Building.

Residents are requested to attend. Members of the commission will make available all information they have pertaining to the ordinance.

UMW 'Blacklist' of C-M Hospital Charged

The United Mine Workers Welfare Fund was accused of "blacklisting" the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital during heated debate yesterday at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Medical Society in Pittsburgh.

The fund was accused of severing relations with the local hospital, as well as the McKeesport Hospital, earlier this year. The debate failed to make clear why the hospitals were "blacklisted."

However it was indicated that the two institutions were scratched from the UMW list because none of their staff physicians would agree to send bills to the union fund instead of to the patients themselves.

Russell M. Stone, administrator of the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, said today he had "no comment" on the dispute, which he described as "complicated and touchy."

Stone confirmed that the UMW fund had severed relations with the hospital as of July 1. He indicated that the dispute was with the hospital's staff physicians, rather than the hospital itself.

Stone revealed that about 10 per cent of Charleroi-Monessen hospital patients had been cared for under the UMW fund in recent years. He said that he has been informed that the fund will no longer pay hospital expenses of these patients.

The state medical society is battling the UMW over bills because it regards the union's demands as attempts to "take over the control of medicine." It contends the union seeks to dictate how much a physician can charge, what kind

Nowe's Death Removes Controversial Figure

The death of William P. Nowe, of New Kensington, in an automobile accident today removes from the Westmoreland County political scene one of its most discussed and least understood political figures.

Although nominally a Republican and apparently influential in GOP circles at the state level, Nowe in recent years has been close to some of the top leaders of the Democratic courthouse machine in Greensburg.

Chief among these is Judge Edward G. Bauer, himself a former Republican, who is now campaigning for his second term as a common pleas jurist.

Nowe's forces openly supported Judge Bauer for a Republican nomination in the primary last May, but the effort came a cropper when Bauer ran a poor fourth in a field of six candidates for two nominations.

However, Judge Bauer ran first on the Democratic ticket, and Nowe had been expected to continue backing him in the general election campaign against the Republican candidates.

The source of Nowe's influence has been difficult to identify. But few Republican politicians in the county have been unaware of its existence. And some have credited the New Kensington man with duplicity, contending this has been a principal factor in keeping the Republican party perennially weak in Westmoreland.

Only once did Nowe put his own name before the voters. That was in 1931 when he appeared as a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff with the

At Least 10 Die In Plane

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (UP) —A fog-delayed Northeast airliner with 24 persons aboard including homeward - bound vacationists plunged into a swamp last night.

At least 10 persons, including the pilot and co-pilot were killed and 14 others were injured when the Boston - to - New York plane slammed into the tree - lined bog near Municipal Airport.

Dead are:

Charles A. Chase of Vineyard Haven, Mass., en route to New York.

The pilot, Capt. Vincent L. Pitts, 35, Wellesley, Mass.

Co - pilot, Roger Sweetland, 31, Arlington, Mass.

Allan Melhado, Nantucket and 57 Park Ave., New York, an investment banker.

Mr. M. K. Schles, 675 Madison Ave., New York City.

David L. Chapman, 12 E. 88th St., New York City.

Russell D. Bell, 70, of 4625 Grand Blvd., Montreal, a banker.

Three women's bodies, believed to be:

Mrs. Bradshaw (Britton Ave.) Elmhurst, L.I.

Mrs. Eccles, Elmhurst, L.I., traveling with Mrs. Bradshaw.

Mrs. Mary Brownell, Jamestown, R.I.

Plane Didn't Burn

The radar-less twin-engine DC3 split wide open like a broken egg. But the death toll was held down by the fact the wreckage did not burn.

Rescuers walked or rode single file over a narrow, winding dirt road, only open access to the swamp, and spread ladders end on end over the bog to gain footing in carrying out the dead, dying and injured.

Floodlights pierced the clammy fog, silhouetting the broken fuselage. It was suspended in trees with the right side of the tail six feet off the ground. The left wing and left tail were sheared off. The left underside was ripped open. The nose was partly buried in mud 50 feet away.

The silver airliner, flight 285, had taken off from Boston's Logan Airport at 5:50 p.m. e.d.t. and had stopped at Hyannis on Cape Cod, and the vacation islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard. The plane was to make a call at New Bedford's Municipal Airport before continuing on to La Guardia Field, New York.

Drops Suddenly

While circling Municipal Airport for a landing, the plane suddenly dropped to the ground, disappearing behind thick trees. So dense were the trees, the wreckage was not found until 11:10 p.m., more than two hours after the crash.

Rescue operations were slowed down by the inaccessibility of the swamp. Ambulances, trucks and fire apparatus had to travel slowly single file over the only dirt road. A small stream on the edge of the bog had to be bridged with ladders.

Wesley Magoon, on duty at the New Bedford Airport control tower, said the airliner pilot called him at 8:46 p.m. reporting he was over the airport's outer marker and about four minutes from a landing. Visibility was one mile and the pilot said he expected to make a routine instrument landing.

After a few minutes had passed, and he had received no further radio report from the plane, Magoon notified Northeast officials.

PHONE STRIKE BEGINS — R. L. Glackin, Charleroi, is pictured picketing the Charleroi office of the Bell Telephone Co. Glackin is a member of the Communication Workers of America. That union went on strike this morning against the Western Electric Co., installers of Bello Telephone equipment. About 60 operators and maintenance personnel at the Charleroi Bell office refused to cross the picket line. However district phone service was not affected.

Monongahela Man Seeking Damages

Peno Bucchianeri, Monongahela, has filed a suit in Washington County Court to recover damages alleged to have resulted in an auto accident in Fallowfield Twp. on Dec. 26, 1956.

Bucchianeri claimed in his suit that he was severly injured when the car in which he was riding ran into a dirt embankment. The defendant is the driver of the car, Virginia C. Marraccini, Fredericktown R. D. 1.

Week End Rain Eases Drought Conditions

A week end of scattered showers eased drought-conditions in the district today and practically erased the possibility of a water shortage.

Rainfall at U. S. Lock No. 4 at Monessen was reported at only .15 of an inch over the week end. However further up the Monongahela River, heavy rainfalls were recorded.

Most of this additional water has been backed up in the elaborate system of dams which controls the Monongahela river level.

At the Monessen lock, the river remained stationary at 14.3 on the upper gauge and 10.3 on the lower gauge. That's about as low as the river can go and still be navigable.

With the added water in the Monongahela pool, there seemed to be no danger now that the river will recede any more. That will also insure an adequate supply for area water companies who rely on the river.

Welcomed by Farmers

No rain was recorded in Monessen on Saturday despite cloudy skies. Yesterday, the rainfall was reported at .15 of an inch. An additional .04 of an inch had been charted this morning.

The rain was welcomed by area farmers who have watched their land dried up by the summer-long drought. The farmers report that additional rain is needed to fully "bring back" the land.

The weather bureau promised additional shower activity today as a result of warm, humid air. The showers are expected to continue through Tuesday.

Temperatures today will range in the upper 80's. Tonight the mercury will dip into the middle-60's.

Adenauer

The whole campaign was fought on the single issue: For or against Adenauer and for or against his pro-Western policies.

Why did Adenauer romp home to easy victory again?

Largely because West Germany's well-fed millions never had it so good. They have full employment, full bellies and booming prosperity, and they got them under the Adenauer regime. That was an argument the Socialists never could hope to dent.

A second but important reason was fear of what might happen to this country bang up against the Iron Curtain if the Socialists won power and attempted a switch to a neutralist foreign policy.

of treatment he is to give and who is to treat a union beneficiary and where.

No UMW officials at District 4 headquarters in Uniontown or District 5 headquarters in Pittsburgh were available today for comment.

In another highlight of yesterday's meeting, Dr. John W. Shirer, new president of the Pennsylvania Medical Society, urged that a law be enacted setting up a "medical disciplinary board" that would decide on accusations against physicians.

Dr. Shirer said that such a law would work in two ways.

"It might well serve to caution and deter the flagrant accuser. It should encourage the proper accuser to press his case and insist on correction. It should help deter minority groups who would bring medical men into unfavorable light," Shirer said in a report to the society's House of Delegates.

Beaver Doctor Honored

Shirer, associate professor of surgery at the University of Pittsburgh, also cautioned that differences among doctors in various specialties not be aired in public before they are discussed and efforts to resolve them made within the "family of medicine."

The society's "General Practitioner of the Year" award went to Dr. Milton L. McCandless, 86-year - old Beaver County doctor who smoked his first cigaret at 60 and has yet to take his first drink of an alcoholic beverage. He drinks three glasses of milk a day.

Dr. McCandless, of Rochester, Pa., will be presented the award at a dinner Tuesday night. Though he's been in practice 62½ years, he still makes calls at night, keeps regular office hours and rarely takes a holiday.

Cold Canadian Air Expected In Ohio Valley

By UNITED PRESS

A blast of cold Canadian air, blamed for touching off tornadoes that killed two persons in Oklahoma, surged as far south as Texas today and east to the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley.

A rash of twisters struck in eastern Oklahoma Saturday night in advance of the onrushing cold air.

Killed when a tornado shattered their home at Sacred Heart, Okla., were Mr. and Mrs. Haskell Campbell. At least 13 persons were injured by the twisters and 20 to 30 families were left homeless.

In the Atlantic, Hurricane Carrie threatened to sideswipe Bermuda, but the Miami, Fla., weather bureau said the erratic storm probably will not hit the U.S. mainland.

Mostly clear skies prevailed within the cool air mass, which dropped temperatures an average of 10 to 15 degrees. Bismark, N.D., registered an early morning low of 39 as compared with a mild 58 Sunday morning.

Uncomfortably warm and humid air clung to the south and east of the cold air. Temperatures in the East ranged in the upper 60's and 70's early today.

Partly cloudy and cooler weather is seen for the Great Lakes region, and the Lower Ohio Valley with warm and humid weather elsewhere east of the Mississippi River. Some scattered showers are expected in the warm and humid air.

Derry Swimming Pool Is Planned

Construction of a municipal swimming pool in Derry may begin in the near future.

Last week authority was granted the Board of Directors of the Derry Community Development Corporation to enter into a contract with a Harrisburg firm for construction of the recreational facility.

Low bid on the project was $40,125, submitted by the Spring Lake Construction Co., Harrisburg.

Ups and Downs

CHICAGO (UP)—Retiring Abe Sargis, 77, told how he managed to log 30,000 miles up and down in 51 years as an elevator operator. Said Sargis—"I like to get down fast so I can start up again."

The banquet will be held at Twin Coaches and will feature Drew Pearson, noted columnist, as speaker.

Six Persons Injured In Three Separate Accidents in District

Six persons, including two from Monessen, were injured in three separate motor accidents in the district over the weekend.

Daniel Hornack, 17, of 91 Scenery Blvd., and Tom DeGiacohi, 17, of 31 Westmoreland Dr., both of Monessen, were treated for injuries at Charleroi-Monessen Hospital about 3 a. m. yesterday following a one-car accident on Route 71 near Greensburg, state police reported.

Both were released from the hospital after treatment for bruises about the face and body.

A Belle Vernon woman, Mrs. Susanna Kachmar, 48, of 313 Grove Ave., was hospitalized for injuries recieved when she was struck by a truck about 9:30 a. m. yesterday in Lynnwood.

Police said Mrs. Kachmar had alighted from a bus, walked to the rear of the machine and was struck as she darted into the path of an oncoming truck operated by Gerald Loreski, 17, of Beacon St., Belle Vernon.

She is in "good" condition in Charleroi-Monessen Hospital with a fractured left leg, head cuts and bruises.

Three Belle Vernon youths were injured early yesterday when their auto hit a utility pole in a dead end street in old Route 881, about three miles east of Belle Vernon, police said.

According to police, the driver, Edward Gauden, Jr., 300 Broad Ave., was probably unfamiliar with the street and hit the pole when he came to the end of the street.

Released from Charleroi-Monessen Hospital after treatment for minor injuries were Gauden's two passengers, Ronald Crookham, Main St., and Jacob Steinmiller, Graham St. Both are 17 years old. Gauden apparently was not injured.

A Brownsville man and wife were admitted to Brownsville Hospital following a mishap about 8:15 p. m. on Beallsville-Marianna Rd.

Attendants said Leslie Swogger, 22, and his wife, Lorraine, 21, of 314 Second St., were in fair condition last night. Mrs. Swogger suffered chest injuries and multiple abrasions of the body, and his wife received a severe cut of the right foot and a possible fracture of the left shoulder.

Attaches of the hospital said the car overturned on a curve in the road.

support of the then "regular" organization leadership.

William H. Humes was the inpendent candidate in that primary battle which is still talked about when political oldtimers in Westmoreland County get together.

Bauer, then a Republican legislator, was Nowe's campaign manager, and a sharp issue was drawn between bossism and independence in the then dominant GOP. There were also charges Nowe was backed by racket elements.

Humes and the independents won the fight, Humes polling 24,864 votes to 22,157 for Nowe. The loss was a humiliating one for the Republican leadership of that time.

Although he continued to play a somewhat mysterious behind-the-scenes role, Nowe never again let his own name go on a ballot.

After the Nowe defeat, Bauer switched to the Democratic party and began a rise which took him through the district attorney's office to the bench. But the two men continued their close personal and political association until Nowe's life was snuffed out in today's accident.

As a recent example of the kind of power Nowe could wield in the Democratic party was the appointment of one of his chief lieutenants, Hiram V. Hartman, also of New Kensington, to the county's Board for the Assessment and Revision of Taxes. Hartman was hurt in the crash which killed Nowe.

Although a Republican, Hartman was opposed for the position by the Republican minority county commissioner, Smith McKee, also of New Kensington but an anti-Nowe Republican leader.

However, the two Democrats on the board of commissioners, voted for Hartman, and he got the job.

Family of Three Killed When Truck Hits Car

CHESTER, Pa. (UP)- A family of three, including a 2-year old daughter, was killed today when their car collided with a tractor trailer on Route 13, in nearby Linwood.

The dead were identified as Max Flanzer, 57, of 1312 Newcomb Road, Greenacres, Claymont, Delaware; his wife, Elaine, 31, and their daughter, Liza Ann.

The driver of the truck, Charles Thomas, 36, of RD1, Sunnybrook, Pa., was treated for shock and a shoulder injury at Chester Hospital after wandering around the scene for two hours in a dazed condition. He was held on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Police said the car was crushed as the tractor trailer drove it into a tavern building and then landed on top of the auto. The impact left a gaping hole in the building.

Doctors and nurses stood by while rescue workers tried to dislodge the trapped victims from the crushed auto after a large crane lifted the truck from atop the twisted wreckage.

The victims were freed about an hour after the accident when the crane was used to suspend the car about three feet off the ground. Rescuers then were able to draw the victims out through the smashed windows.

Big Parade Kicks Off Legion Convention

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)— A parade of Legionnaires and armed forces personnel, marching to the music of more than 160 bands while jet planes roar overhead, kicks off the 39th national American Legion convention today.

Some 2,000 servicemen and up to 60,000 Legionnaires will march the 2½-mile line parade route on the armed Boardwalk here. The U.S. Army band from Fort Myer, Va., heads the march.

The former servicemen and their present - day successors march in daylong review before national Legion Commander W. C. (Dan) Daniel and numerous other Legion and armed forces officials. The Army band will be followed by 1,000 Army, 250 Marine Corps, 500 Navy, 200 Air Force and 150 Coast Guard personnel, including six musical units.

The parade is a high point of the fun and merrymaking which prevailed over this seaside resort when more than 100,000 Legionnaires and their followers crowded into the city Sunday to join the advance cadre of committee members who met for three days last week to prepare nearly 700 resolutions for action by the 3,113 delegates.

The resolutions ranged from child welfare programs to matters of American foreign policy, including the legal status of armed forces personnel overseas, such as erupted in the Girard case.

The convention's three days of business sessions began this morning

Fears Are Lessening In Israel

By UNITED PRESS

Jerusalem dispatches said today the chance of an Arab attack against Israel appears to have diminished for the present despite new fiery statements from Syria.

The Israeli sources noted that Premier David Ben-Gurion is on an extended vacation, spending his time reading philosophy in the evenings and doing yogi - like handstands on the beach while sunbathing during the day.

Foreign Minister Golda Meir and Maj. Gen. Moshe Dayan, the Israeli chief of staff, were abroad.

Israeli government circles said Israel has not requested new guarantees by the United States against Arab aggression.

The sources said Israel also does not intend to ask such guarantees in the near future despite large quantities of Soviet arms streaming into Syria. The belief was that the Eisenhower Doctrine is sufficient protection against any Syrian aggression.

U. S. Is Accused

In Damascus, Maj. Gen. Afif Bizri, the Syrian chief of staff, repeated his previous assertions the United States is "drawing up plans to attack Syria."

Bizri told a news conference Sunday that if the United States did not attack Syria personally "she might use others" for such a move.

He said all Arab countries, including Jordan, would be on Syria's side in the event of aggression against Syria.

Bizri repeated previous charges that Turkish troops were massing along the Syrian border and estimated there were one armored and two infantry divisions involved. He also repeated the charge that five U.S. warships approached the northern shore of Syria last week in a "demonstration of force."

New Eagle — Martin Furiga, Third Ave.

M-Sgt. Phil Columbus said that the four Bentleyville men enlisted in the airborne. He said Miss Sacane was a reenlistee in the WAC.

To Begin Work On New School

Construction of Jeannette's new multi-million dollar senior high school building will begin around Nov. 1, it was announced today.

Contracts totaling $2,112,226 were awarded last week for the building which will be located on a 27 acre site.

The new school, designed for 750 students in the upper three grades, will be ready for occupancy for the start of the 1959 term.

To help finance the building program, the school district has boosted real estate taxes from 26 to 28½ mills, raised the per capita levy from $10 to $12.50 and adopted a new $50 tax on pinball machines.

King Leopold Visit

WASHINGTON (UP)—Former King Leopold of Belgium planned today to begin a tour of U.S. government installations devoted to the peaceful uses of atomic energy. The former king is president of the Belgian National Commission for the Progress of Science.

U. S. Planning New Nuclear Tests for 'Clean' Hydrogen Bomb

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States pushed plans today for new H-bomb tests next spring and offered to let the world come see how "clean" the dreaded hydrogen bomb can be.

A government announcement of the tests also hinted at development of new means of defense against any Soviet intercontinental missile attack, but did not elaborate.

Underscoring the failure of recent disarmament talks, the Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department announced jointly yesterday a new test series will be held beginning next April at the Eniwetok proving grounds in the Pacific.

Russia Also Testing

While the announcement specified only "nuclear" tests, Eniwetok is used almost entirely for H-bomb explosions. Tests with less potent atomic weapons are currently being conducted at the Nevada proving grounds here in the United States. Russia also is currently conducting tests. Whether they are atomic or hydrogen bombs has not been divulged.

The U.S. announcement said preparations for the new series are underway "in the absence of a safeguarded disarmament agreement." It noted this country "repeatedly has stated its willingness to suspend nuclear tests as part of a disarmament agreement."

But it said until such agreement is reached "continued development of nuclear weapons is essential to the defense of the United States and of the free world."

Widespread Fear of Test

Mindful of widespread fears of H-bomb tests, the announcement said they will be governed by this country's Bermuda promise of last March to conduct tests "only in such a manner as will keep world radiation from rising to more than a small fraction" of possibly dangerous levels.

It said "an important objective" will be "the further development of nuclear weapons with greatly reduced radioactive fallout so that radiation hazard may be restricted to the military target."

President Eisenhower and U.S. atomic officials have stressed this country's emphasis on developing a "clean" bomb that would not spew its deadly fallout on vast numbers of civilians far from military objectives.

Eisenhower told a news conference June 26 that U.S. scientists had told him they could make a bomb with 96 per cent less fallout than the big "dirty" H-bomb of 1954. He said they believed they could produce an "absolutely clean" bomb with 4 or 5 years more for testing.

PTA to Begin Year's Activities Here Wednesday

Monessen Parent Teacher Association will begin activities for the 1957-58 school term Wednesday evening at a meeting at 8 o'clock in the High School auditorium.

The session will be in the form of a reception for the professional staff in the local schools. New personnel will be introduced by Dr. Joseph Pallone, superintendent of of schools.

Special recognition has been given the local unit, which ranks third in the state PTA and first in Westmoreland County according to membership. There are 1,400 persons enrolled in the local unit.

Guest speaker for the opening session will be Mrs. Nancy Miller of Robert Morris School of Business, Pittsburgh.

Officers who will be assuming their duties are W.R.H. Patterson, president; Mrs. Matt Zoretich, first vice president; Mrs. John Stieska, second vice president and program chairman; Mrs. Everett Vernaccini, financial secretary; Mrs. Michael Buchar, treasurer; Michael Skirpan Jr., corresponding secretary and Mrs. John Dragan, recording secretary.

The building and hospitality committee with Mrs. Michael Kunsa in charge will arrange the social hour after the meeting.

CSTC Enrollment Reaches Capacity

A total of 1182 full-time students have enrolled at California State Teachers College for the fall semester.

Dr. Michael Duda, president, said the enrollment is capacity for the college. He said part-time students increase the total enrollment to 1350.

College dormitory space is completely filled, Dr. Duda reported. Many students are being boarded in private homes, he added.

There are 350 freshmen on the CSTC campus this year. Classes opened on Sept. 6.

Little Rock and the Newport Meeting

THE STATEMENTS which President Eisenhower and Governor Faubus issued after their conference on Saturday at Newport do not tell us very much about what we can expect to happen from here on at Little Rock. The apparent cordiality of the meeting and the ambiguity of the published statements suggest that the conferees left things about as they found them.

Governor Faubus did say, however, as he had said before, that "I expect to accept the decisions of the court." He also reiterates his recognition that the Supreme Court decision of 1954 with respect to racial segregation in the public schools "is the law of the land and must be obeyed."

But why did he have to go to Newport to make such announcements? He was already under the orders of a competent court acting under the provisions of the 1954 decision. If he really intended to "accept" court decisions and obey what he agrees is the law of the land, why did he need to have two hours of the time of the President of the United States?

The answers to these questions no doubt lie in the portions of Governor Faubus' statement in which he pleads for "understanding and patience" on the part of the federal courts and the Department of Justice.

". . . It is essential," he says, "that the complexities of integration be patiently understood by all those in federal authority. . ."

These observations tend to confirm the speculation that Governor Faubus really went to Newport to make some kind of deal with the President which would delay integration in the Little Rock schools.

Fortunately, there is no evidence that the President made such a deal. In his own statement, Mr. Eisenhower merely expresses his understanding that Governor Faubus was returning to Little Rock to carry out "his responsibilities in respect to these decisions."

We earnestly hope this is the case.

THERE has never been the slightest indication that the federal authorities, from the President down, do not fully recognize what Governor Faubus terms the "complexities of integration." Every federal court which has yet considered some phase of the problem has leaned over backwards to show patience and understanding.

But we cannot forget that the integration arrangements at Little Rock were not made in the first instance by a federal court. They were made by the school directors at Little Rock.

And those nine Negro children who went to the Central High School two weeks ago did so under the plans of the school board which had been worked out in careful detail by the superintendent and painstakingly explained over a period of months to the people of the community.

But when the children went to the school in compliance with this plan, they were met by armed troops under the orders of Governor Faubus and were denied admission.

This is the point at which things went haywire at Little Rock, and the federal authorities had nothing to do with it. This crisis was of Governor Faubus' making, pure and simple.

So what must happen is that those Negro children must be admitted to Central High School. This is the clear responsibility of the federal court and of the President and the Department of Justice. It is no less the responsibility of Governor Faubus, and the sooner he accepts the responsibility, the more the nation will think of him.

Drinking at Games

WE HOPE the public school officials of Monessen and other communities in this area will do something effective this season to stop the drinking of liquor and beer by spectators at high school football games.

In the Monessen Stadium last fall the problem was obviously out of hand. After the games the west stand, where most adult spectators sit, was invariably littered with empty whiskey bottles and beer cans. And the games were spoiled for many people surrounding groups which passed bottles back and forth.

It is hardly necessary to say that drinking is gruesomely out of place at any athletic contest. But at a game between schoolboy teams, such a game being a part of the community's education program for its young people, drinking is simply not to be tolerated.

The school authorities here pay for police service at the games. They should make sure that that service includes the immediate expulsion from the Stadium and the prosecution for disorderly conduct of any person bringing liquor or beer into the game or drinking it while the game is in progress.

This is one type of adult delinquency that should be easy to stamp out if the proper officials mean business

Merry-Go-Round—

Sen. Johnson's Charm Tips Uncovered

(Editor's Note: While Drew Pearson is touring the Mediterranean, his column is written by his junior partner.)

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — While cleaning out Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson's desk the other day, handymen discovered 10 typewritten rules for "getting people to like you."

Those who know likable Lyndon believe the list may be the secret of his political charm. The 10 rules seem to be tailored to fit his personality (or vice versa).

No more ingratiating politician has ever stalked the Capitol corridors than the lean Texan. He is not the backslapping, but more the back-hugging type. He is often seen in a two-man huddle, his huge arm wrapped around a colleague's shoulder, his lips close to a colleague's ear.

That persuasive arguments are whispered therein is evident from Lyndon's remarkable success as Senate leader. Few have operated the cumbersome Senate machinery with such slight grinding of political gears.

The rules found in Johnson's desk are typed in the jumbo print he uses for easy reading on paper that shows signs of much fingering. Key words are underlined, exactly as follows:

"Getting people to like you.

"1. Learn to remember names. Inefficiency at this point may indicate that your interest is not sufficiently outgoing.

"2. Be a comfortable person so there is no strain in being with you. Be an old-shoe, old-hat kind of individual.

"3. Acquire the quality of relaxed easy-going so that things do not ruffle you.

"4. Don't be egotistical. Guard against the impression that you know it all. ... ...

"5. Cultivate the quality of being interesting, so people will get something of value from their association with you.

"6. Study to get the 'scratchy' elements out of your personality even those of which you may be unconscious.

"7. Sincerely attempt to heal, on an honest Christian basis, every misunderstanding you have had or now have. Drain off your grievances.

"8. Practice liking people until you learn to do so genuinely.

"9. Never miss an opportunity to say a word of congratulation upon anyone's achievement, or express sympathy in sorrow or disappointment.

"10. Give spiritual strength to people, and they will give genuine affection to you."

Gravy Train

Young, enterprising Davis Ginsburg, former chief counsel of the defunct Price Control Agency, is riding a gravy train in two directions at the same time.

His law firm is the chief lobbying agent for German interests seeking to retrieve confiscated Nazi properties in this country. Yet his firm also represents the Israeli government, whose people suffered the worst Nazi atrocities.

Until recently, Ginsburg had a special pipeline into the State Department. On his payroll was Harriet Margolies, whose husband, Daniel Frank Margolies, worked in the Office of German Affairs.

A State Department spokesman admitted Margolies was close to the German property case but denied that his connection with Ginsburg had anything to do with his transfer to London last month.

Ginsburg's registration as a foreign agent, it should be added, carefully stipulates that Harriet Margolies did research work "for the Government of Israel only."

Note: The Ginsburg firm collects $25,000 a year from the Germans, $10,000 from Israel. If the Germans are successful in recovering their confiscated holdings, the firm stands to make over $14,000,000.

Strange Offer

A new York businessman's offer to arrange to send four Congressmen on all-expense tour of dictator Trujillo's tiny Caribbean country has been mysteriously withdrawn.

The strange offer was made by Lee Miller, owner of a Fifth Ave. firm called Fashion Accessories. He promised free trips to Congressmen Abraham Multer (D., N. Y.), Frank Thompson (D., N. J.), Dean Taylor (R., N. Y.), and William Widnall (R., N. J.).

The four were offered a week in the Dominican Republic, all expenses paid. But Miller wouldn't say who was backing the junket.

After this column started checking, Miller announced the deal was off. He explained that the "angel" who was supposed to pay for the trips had backed out.

Magic Carpet?

From Washington—

Knowland to Knight to Nixon

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Sen. William E. Knowland is showing signs, perhaps conclusive signs, of taking himself entirely out of the race for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960.

If this be so — and events in California strongly suggest it — then it comes as a large and unexpected boon to Vice President Nixon, since Mr. Knowland is the only rival in sight who might successfully challenge him.

Mr. Drummond

Here's what's been happening: It develops that in his eagerness to deflect Senator Knowland from entering a primary fight against him for the California governorship, Gov. Goodwin J. Knight has been publicly pressing the argument that Bill Knowland would be doing something pretty shabby if, as Knight puts it, he were "to seek the governorship as a pawn toward achieving his presidential ambitions."

That is fair political campaigning and it touches a very sensitive nerve. What Mr. Knight is doing is in effect asking his fellow Californians if they shouldn't know, positively, whether in voting for Mr. Knowland they are voting for a governor or for a presidential candidate.

Knowland Replies

Mr. Knowland obviously felt that he couldn't afford to leave that one laying around. He retorted instantly, saying that he "had never used any office as a pawn for any purpose" had that he had always "served out his contract."

The key phase here is "served out his contract." Next year's contract for the California governorship, when the election will be held, is for four years and by being committed to "serve it out" Sen. Knowland would have to hold it until 1962. If I understand Mr. Knowland's words he is saying that is he is elected governor in 1958, he will not permit his name to be considered for the presidency at half-term.

This is a decisive political commitment, which leaves the field unusually clear for Mr. Nixon — if Mr. Knowland is not using words cagily. I have never known him to do so.

Of course, you can't exactly say that Mr. Knowland has "announced" that he will run for the governorship; he has only made it self-evident by scheduling something like 61 speeches in 38 days to sound out whether the voters of California want him to run. But did you ever know a politician who publicly set out to test sentiment concerning his candidacy without finding it favorable? He will find what he is looking for and at this distance it seems that what he is looking for is here to be found.

The ostensible reason for these speeches is to enable Mr. Knowland, as the minority leader of the United States Senate, to give California voters an accounting of the first session of the 85th Congress. But somehow his speeches just get filled with references to state problems and state issues and they add up to what are clearly the Senator's reasons why California Republicans should nominate him for a first term as governor instead of nominating Governor Knight for a third term.

Unless one or the other decides to step down, which now seems unlikely, this is going to be a heated contest. It is already getting into the blunt-language stage. After Mr. Knight began to belabor Mr. Knowland about using the governorship as a "pawn," Senator Knowland began to describe Mr. Knight as a "pussy-footer" and as an "on-again, off-again Finnegan" type of politician.

It would be foolish to try to guess the outcome of a head-on collision between these two. Senator Knowland is strongest with the conservative wing of the Republican Party, but he is a good vote-getter with all the elements as was evident in 1952 when he received more votes than any other candidate who ever ran for office in California. But even as Governor Knight has lost strength with the Republican organization, he had widened the base of his support among voters generally.

So far Vice President Nixon appears to be the immediate beneficiary. If Mr. Knowland is elected governor next year, he is promising not to run for the 1960 presidential nomination and, if he is defeated, he will not be in a position to run.

Beck and Hoffa Cases Recall 1930-31 Probe

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UP) — Jimmy Hoffa's reluctance to retreat from the next presidency of the Teamsters reminds the old timers around town of how it was back there when Ferdinand Pecora was investigating the stock market.

That was in 1930-31 during what we know as the depression. Bad luck, stupidity and too much love of money and power had mouse-trapped many of the country's top money men into serious trouble.

Mr. Wilson

The public was aroused. A lot of banks were busted and the unemployed nearly starved.

Same Old Stage

The tie between Hoffa and the money bags who answered up to Pecora's sharp questioning is that they all acted on the same stage, although many years apart. The hot seat in the Senate caucus room where Hoffa and Dave Beck wilted and, likely, will wilt again was just where Pecora placed his banker witnesses.

The head men of the nation's greatest banks took their turn there, from the late J.P. Morgan down. Morgan got off almost free from the Pecora investigation. The public reviled him for paying no income tax during three successive years. His counsel replied, simply, that Morgan did not owe any tax under the existing revenue act. And, that was a fact.

The general charge to which the bankers were summoned to Washington for answer was the same as the general accusation against Beck and Hoffa: Breach of trust. The judgment of the Senate committeemen who heard Beck and Hoffa was that they were guilty of that many times over.

Used Fifth Amendment

Committee censure, popular disapproval and Teamster opinion, combined, however, were not sufficient to blast Beck out of his plush union presidency nor yet to persuade Hoffa to withdraw his candidacy for the presidency at this month's union convention. Beck acknowledged his unfitness for re-election but clung to the tag end of his term.

Beck and some of Hoffa's disreputable associates chose a Fifth Amendment defense. No banker, however much compromised by the facts, would dare do that. None did under Pecora's merciless grilling.

Two of them, however, mid-way in their ordeal of testimony, felt compelled to resign their banking jobs.

The president of New York's National City Bank stepped down under such circumstances and so did the chairman of the board of the largest bank in the United States, the so-called Rockefeller bank, the Chase National.

The chairman of the Chase returned to Pecora's witness chair after his board of directors announced that he had resigned. It was learned later that the departing chairman still was to receive a comfortable pension. This was instantly cancelled under pressure of public opinion.

It will be a matter of public interest when Beck stands aside, and if Hoffa also should, to discover whether they, too, have been rewarded in retirement for long and faithful service.

The Lighter Side—

His Dog Is Still a Man's Best Friend

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP)—Let us consider today a famous U.S. senator whose footsteps could put him in the doghouse, a four-billion-dollar corporation which built one better doghouse and stopped, and a little girl on Long Island whose dog is now better housed.

It is altogether fitting and proper that we do this because next week is National Dog Week, and it was exactly four score and seven years ago that the senator delivered his famous courtroom eulogy of one dog in particular and dogdom in general and left the world a proverb:

"A man's best friend is his dog."

It was a stormy evening in September, 1870, when the late Sen. George Graham Vest, a short, stumpy man with prematurely graying temples, quick blue eyes and a brilliant speaking delivery, stepped before a jury in the Warrensburg, Mo., courthouse and began uttering the words that have been reprinted millions of times:

"Gentlemen of the jury: the best friend a man has in the world may turn against him. . .a man's dog stands by him in prosperity and poverty, in health and sickness. . ."

Client Won Case

After about 500 words in that vein, ending with a word portrait of the noble dog lying faithfully on his master's grave, Vest sat down. The judge blew his nose noisily. The moist-eyed jury took only a few minutes to award $50 damages to Vest's client, whose dog, Old Drum, had been killed.

Now the citizens of Warrensburg are raising funds to build a monument to Old Drum. If you ask me, it is time for the dogs of the world to do something about erecting a monument to George Graham Vest.

Senator Vest was a citizen of my home town, Boonville, Mo., and around there they like to recall his quick wit. Once in arguing a murder trial which hinged on whether a man could be recognized by the sound of his footsteps, he told the jury: "Gentlemen, every night when I step onto the wooden walk to my house, my wife can tell without looking who it is. And sometimes," he added after a weighty pause, "she can even tell where I've been."

Builds Steel Doghouse

The dog's stature has been growing steadily since Senator Vest's build-up until today one collie has the power to move the vast U.S. Steel Corp., the outfit known as "Big Steel." His name is Brucie. He lives in Elmont, N. Y., with his mistress, Florence Fischermann, 12.

Several months ago, Florence wrote to Clifford F. Hood, Big Steel's president, asking whether they built stainless steel doghouses, since Brucie's old wooden one was termite-ridden. Hood thought: "Hmm." He set an engineering task force to figuring whether U.S. Steel should get into doghouses — steel ones—as a product.

They built a stainless steel pilot model, shiny and wood-lined. They hemmed and hawed over it and finally reported the high cost and limited market didn't justify commercial production. Hood decided to present the one test model to Brucie but didn't tell Florence.

The other day it came. Florence was so surprised she cried. Brucie moved right in. Now he's the only dog in the world with a home that is also a bomb shelter.

June Elaine Farmer Weds James Doyle

Solemnized on Saturday morning, Sept. 14, in the Roman Catholic Church of the Transfiguration, Monongahela, was the marriage of June Elaine Farmer and James P. Doyle. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Farmer of Morton St., New Eagle, and the bridegroom, a resident of Monongahela, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John P. Doyle, residents of Monessen for many years.

The Rev. Paul Leger heard the exchange of vows at 10 o'clock in the morning before an altar banked with gladiolus. It was a double ring ceremony.

The bride entered the church with her brother-in-law, Joseph A. Gamble, who gave her in marriage. She chose to wear a street length dress of white lace over pink tafetta. She wore a white satin hat with a brief veil and other accessories of white satin. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of pale pink roses with a white orchid center.

Mrs. Ruth Gamble, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a dress of pink lace with a matching hat and other accessories. Her flowers were also pink roses.

Larry Doyle of Monessen, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue wool ensemble with pink accessories and a pink orchid corsage.

A wedding reception followed at the Mansion. Refreshments were served from a table centered with a tiered wedding cake. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Doyle received relatives and friends informally at the Farmer home. A number of out of town guests attended.

The bridal couple later left for an eastern wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a brown suit with a beige feathered hat and furs. When they return they will reside in their apartment on Marne St., Monongahela.

Mrs. James P. Doyle
(June Elaine Farmer)

A graduate of Monongahela High School, the new Mrs. Doyle is employed at Mitchell Power Station of West Penn Power Co. Mr. Doyle, a graduate of Monessen High School, attended Duquesne University and is now manager of the advertising department at the Daily Republican, Monongahela newspaper.

Former Belle Vernon Man Weds in Oklahoma Church

Announcement has been received here of the marriage of a former Belle Vernon man, which was solemnized in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Mildred Ann Swab, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Swab, 2636 E. 60th Place, Tulsa, became the bride of Thomas Stanley Buxton. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Buxton, Okmulgee, Okla., formerly of Belle Vernon.

The nuptial rites were read in St. Francis Xavier Church of Tulsa. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Victor J. Reed, cousin of the bride, and pastor of Holy Family cathedral, performed the ceremony. The Rev. Francis McGouldrick, pastor of St. Francis Xavier, celebrated the nuptial high mass.

Ferns and woodwordia banked the altar, which was adorned with vases of white summer flowers. Tall floor baskets of white chrysanthemums, gladiolus and asters were placed at the chancel rail.

William Sheehan, soloist, and Mrs. D. Pope, organist, presented an interlude of nuptial music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white Chantilly lace styled with a softly molded bodice of lace with a scalloped neckline and long fitted sleeves which tapered to points over the hand. The bouffant skirt of layers of tulle was styled with an apron overskirt outlined in Chantilly lace and scatteres with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The back of the skirt formed a bustle and swept into a chapel length train. A Chantilly lace cap held a two tiered veil of French bridal illusion, which was styled fingertip length. She carried a cascade bouquet of white feather chrysanthemums and stephanotis. It was centered with a white orchid and tied with shower streamers.

The bride's cousin, Sheila Farrell, was maid of honor. Mrs. William Hardy, sister of the bridegroom and Judith Paulsen were bridesmaids. They wore ballerina length gowns of romance blue chiffon trimmed in ballet blue. They carried cascade bouquets of chiffon white asters.

Best man was Joseph Gormley, Okmulgee, and the ushers were William Hardy, Robert Swab and Robert Nishimuta.

Serving as ring bearer was Stephen Higginbotham.

The mother of the bride wore a light brown Chantilly lace waltz length dress with matching accessories and a corsage of talisman orchids. The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue Chantilly lace waltz length dress with matching accessories and a mauve orchid corsage.

Reception Held

A reception at the Tulsa Country Club followed the wedding. The bridal table was covered with a white satin sweetheart cloth overdraped with white nylon tulle. Silver candelabra holding blue snowflake candles and the base holding the tiered wedding cake was garlanded with smilax and blue asters.

Reception aides were Mrs. John T. Swab, Mrs. James Burton, Mrs. Don O'Rourke, Betty Lou Hood, Marlene Buxton, Maxine Buxton and Judy Reed.

The couple left for a wedding trip and is now at home in Stillwater, Oklahoma.

The bride was graduated from Marquette High School and attended the University of Tulsa, Marquette University, Milwaukee, and Oklahoma State University. She was a member of Delta Delta sorority, Newman Club and Future Teachers of America.

Mr. Buxton was graduated from Vernon High School and is now attending Oklahoma State University. He is majoring in Petroleum engineering. He is a member of the Newman Club and Pi Tau Sigma engineering fraternity.

Lace is very much in season and here is a nylon tricot slip simply dazzling with it. A full ton of lace (eight inches deep!) flutters around the hemline. More scalloped lace at the top, and underlining the perfectly shaped bodice. Was ever a slip more feminine?

Concert Set By Former Area Artist

Donora Chapter No. 94 Order of the Eastern Star will present "The Singing Actress" an original concert arranged and sung by Jean Smith Jenkins in the Donora High School auditorium at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Jean Smith Jenkins, a former resident of Donora, is well known in the field of operatic and religious music. She has made concert and television appearances in Pittsburgh, New York, East Orange, Chicago and Erie. She first gained recognition as a soloist with the Pittsburgh Opera Co. She was acclaimed for her work in French, Italian and German opera.

She has appeared in Monessen, Monongahela, Charleroi and in Donora in previous concerts, and has made many benefit appearances.

The artist will be accompanied by Ernest Bedell of Erie. Her program will include: First You Put, Witches Dance and Ho, Ho, The Witch Is Dead, which she sings as Hansel in the Humperdinck opera, Hansel and Gretel.

In Different Role

In the role of Adele in Fledermaus by Strauss she will sing The Letter Song, The Laughing Song, Adele's Audition and The Waltzes.

Following the intermission she will sing religious selections, "To Three Great Faiths". She will sing the ancient Jewish melodies, Me Chomoco and Etz Chagin and Mendelssohn's Hear Ye Israel.

Her Catholic selections will be Three Ancient Chants arranged by Rossini.

The Protestant numbers will be: A Mighty Fortress Is Our God by Martin Luther and I know That My Redeemer Liveth from The Messiah by Handel.

Portraying Violetta in "La Traviata" she will interpret Ah! Is It He? and Addios.

The presentation is open to the public.

B'nai B'rith Women Hold Opening Meeting

The first meeting of the new year was held by members of the B'nai B'rith Women of Monessen at the Kneseth Israel social center. The president, Mrs. Sylvia Stuhl, was in charge.

The program was highlighted by the showing of a film, "Togetherness".

A haw-haw box project was introduced by the chairmen, Mrs. Mim Lieber and Mrs. Irene Pavloff.

Mrs. Sylvia Wilen announced plans for the donor dinner, which will be an event of Oct. 22 at Holiday House, Monroeville. It will be in the form of a dinner dance.

Mrs. Jean Bayer and Mrs. Sylvia Feldman reported that they represented the group at a guest tea held Wednesday by the Catholic Business and Professional Women's Club at St. Cajetan church hall.

Luncheon was served by the officers who acted as hostesses. They were Mrs. Stuhl, Mrs. Natalia Krasik, Mrs. Wilen, Mrs. Marilyn Bergstein, Mrs. Esther Feldman, Mrs. Ruth Epstein, Mrs. Thelma Weiss, Mrs. Fern Shire, Mrs. Fern Krause and Mrs. Hilda Shire.

A TWO WAY NECKLINE distinguishes this fall and winter royal blue wool day dress. Unbuttoned the neckline becomes a wide V with revers.

Two D.A.R. Clubs Will Convene Tomorrow Night

Monongahela Valley Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will observe Constitution Day tomorrow. Two of the clubs from the valley organization will be having their initial meetings of the season.

The Donora-Monongahela Club will convene at the home of Mrs. Hugh McKinley in Monongahela with Mrs. James B. White as assisting hostess. A program will be planned in keeping with the theme. There will also be a business session.

The Charleroi-Monesen Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Peter Gerard at 306 Oakland Ave., Charleroi. There will be a program, business session and a social hour.

Announcement will be made concerning the Valley Chapter meeting.

And that was in the days of low taxes, so no wonder Tunney is a millionaire.

Today's Sports Parade—

Williams In Desperate Bid to Stay in Lineup

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP) — Whether you like him or not — and there seems to be no middle ground—you have to admire Ted Williams today for his game attempts to get back into the Boston Red Sox lineup.

The Red Sox, as far as the pennant race is concerned, have nowhere to go. And it is entirely possible that Williams could sit out the season and, without further effort, win the American League batting championship.

Yet, no matter where you stand in the Williams popularity poll, you have to rise up and cheer for the Williams way.

Some detractors will argue that a man getting a salary estimated at better than $100,000 a year should play on one leg, if necessary. Or, in this case, one lung, because Williams is suffering from a severe respiratory infection.

Remains Very Sick

But I have got to feel that any man who goes to work when he is as ill as Williams is carrying his determination beyond the call of duty. The salary has nothing to do with it, because if he wasn't worth it to the Red Sox, they wouldn't pay it.

And Ted has been, and still is, very sick. He has a racking cough which bubbles ominously in his chest. And every seizure tears at the 10-inch silver which was placed in his collarbone when he broke his shoulder in a 954 training camp fall.

But Ted is a man of vast pride. And he would feel like a "cheese champion" if he sat out the season and, in effect, told Mickey Mantle to "try and catch me." Williams proved this facet of his character when he hit .406 in 1941—last man to reach that mark.

Determined To Play

In the final week of the season he had skidded alarmingly, going to the plate 10 times and getting only two hits in a series at Washington. He was down to .401 and wasn't meeting the ball. Joe Cronin, then hi smanager, suggested that he stay out of the lineup to protect his average.

Ted was indignant.

"That's not for me," he retorted. "I'll stay in there and take my turn if I finish at .390. If I'm going to be a champion, I want to win like one."

So he stayed in action as the Red Sox moved to Philadelphia to wind up the season against the Athletics. And his luck remained bad in the Saturday opener of a closing three-game set. Ted got one hit in four times at bat and his average dropped to .399.

"I'm not worried," he grated. "There's still two games tomorrow."

Flashes Old Form

In the first game of the final day's double-header, he poled out three times up for a winning garrison finish of six hits in eight times at bat and his .406 average.

The challenge of Mantle's is something he has to try to meet head-on. Unfit, he may throw the batting title away. But you have to hand it to him for refusing it as a gift.

Leopards Drop Opener To Ellsworth, 27-6

Rostraver High opened its 1957 season on a sour note Saturday night at Ellsworth as Coach Wade Bender's green eleven dropped a 27-6 decision to Elsworth, making new Tiger coach Paul Lapcevic's debut a success.

Joe Johnson accounted for two of the Tigers' touchdowns while Lou Collins and Joe Johnson picked up the other two. John Rados added three points on conversion plunges.

Ellsworth took a 7-0 lead early in the game when the Collins Dziak passed to Johnson for the second TD as Ellsworth constructed a 14-0 margin at the quarter.

The Tigers jumped their advantage to 21-0 at halftime on Johnson's eight-yard blast.

Theakston scored the final touchdown for the Tigers on a four-yard blast.

Rostraver scored in the final period on a long harch, featuring Quarterback Bob Keith's passes. Keith finally ran the final 10 yards.

The Tigers had an 11-7 advantage in first downs. Five of the Rostraver stick-movements came in the fourth stanza.

Redstone High's 'Hawks Lose to Johnstown, 27-0

Redstone, former members of the Big Six Mon Valley Football Conference, currently fighting its exclusion from the Conference this season, dropped a 27-0 decision to a rugged Johnstown team Friday night at Redstone.

The Johnnies, coached by Dave Hart, former Connellsville and St. Vincent grid star, took advantage of the Black Hawk miscues to garner the win.

The visiting aggregation scored in every quarter tallying six in the first, nine in the second, six in the third and six in the final period.

In the first quarter Johnstown took the opening kickoff and marched 80 yards to score. Bill Faust, Nick Teplica and Bob Bambino alternated to garner three first downs and place the ball on the six. Teplica carried over right guard for the touchdown. George Azar's placement failed.

Early in the second quarter Redstone's back Lou DiSimone was tackled in his own end zone for an 8-0 Johnnie lead.

A'Hawk fumble led to another Johnstown score in the second period and a 15-0 count. And still another fumble gave the Hartman a TD in the third period while the final score came on a 47-yard drive.

Tepilica, 140-pound Johnnie halfback, tallied two of the touchdowns.

Redstone threatened twice but both times the Johnstown defenses held.

Pitt-Okies Seen As Deciding National Title

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

Without even waiting to find out whether the Yankees are really "in" or if the Braves are going to blow this pennant, too, the college football season already was underway today with a big game coming up this week end that just might decide the 1957 national championship.

A title game on the first big Saturday of the season?

Sounds silly, but it isn't, because defending national champion Oklahoma will be visiting Pittsburgh in a clash that many experts are saying will be the toughest of the year for coach Bud Wilkinson's souped-up Sooners.

If Oklahoma can add this game to its record string of 40 victories, it then will swing into a schedule almost exclusively against the Big Eight (formerly Big Seven) competition it has murdered 59 consecutive times. If the Sooners drop this one, it could turn out to be their only loss of the year and the one that costs them their crown.

Despite the graduation of seven starters, Oklahoma is figured to have another powerhouse sparked by free-wheeling back Clendon Thomas. But if the new starters haven't quite got into the swing, Pitt could snap the streak with a team rated one of the East's best.

The gridiron campaign actually got going Saturday, but only a handful of teams were in action, including none of the "big name" squads. The highlights included Utah State's 16-12 victory over Hawaii and Furman's 13-7 win over East Tennessee.

The Oklahoma - Pitt clash keynotes a week end in which the emphasis will be on intersection play, as it always is early in the season.

Irish Improved But Year Away, Says ND Coach

vy. UP6 IRISH 9-16 .. bm329a.

CHICAGO (UP)—Notre Dame's football future is brighter, coach Terry Brennan believes, but he can paint only a bleak picture for the Irish fans this year.

"We're a year away," he said. "At least it'll take us another year to be stronger competitively. Certainly we'll be a better football team this year, but our opponents haven't gotten weaker. They've stayed the same or gotten stronger."

Last year Brennan had to start seven sophomores in most games and against Southern California, he started nine. "They were good sophomores," he said, "but under normal circumstances, they wouldn't have played much. Some good might come from our two and eight record, but it's a hard way to do it."

Depth is his major worry, and he said "I'm just trying to find 11 ball players and not worrying about a three deep or a two deep lineup. We're very thin, not deep at any position, and we'll have to be very fortunate and escape injuries to stay with a tough opponent."

Monongahela, Monessen High's next opponent, in the Big Five Conference opener Friday night, got its 1957 season off on the right foot with a 14-0 win over Snowden at Monongahela's field Saturday night.

Quarterback Jim Robertson scored both touchdowns, sneaking across from one yard out and sweeping end for six yards.

One six-pointer was set up by Mike McCurdy's (son of Monessen assistant coach Harry McCurdy), pass interception and return to the Snowden 20 and Bob Johnson payed the way for the other with a 45-yard jaunt.

The Wildcats open Big Five competition against Monessen here Friday night.

Assistant Coach Elmo Natali, former Greyhound football great, directed the Wildcats in the absence of Head Coach Al Cree, who suffered a kidney stone attack Friday and was immediately hospital in Monongahela.

Last-Second Try For Tie Falls Short by Just Inches

Approximately 7,500 persons, many of them Monessenites, sat in amazement at Windber Stadium Saturday night as Windber and Monessen High School grid teams locked in one of the most thrilling offensive football games in high school annals, the Grehounds dropping a heartbreaking 38-37 decision to the Ramblers.

From early in the first period when Windber tallied on a pass for a 6-0 lead, until the final minute of the game when Monessen scored its final touchdown it seemed as if one of the teams was scoring on every other play.

The defeat would have been hard enough to take for the locals after scoring 37 points but the dose was made doubly bitter in that the 'Hounds came so very close to tying in the final 30 seconds but the headlinesman claimed Carl Rattay did not go over on the extra point try after the a Dan Barton to Ken Bronson pass, good for 28 yards had made the count, 38-37. Monessen and Windber fans alike, who ran down onto the field to "sight" the goal line for the all-important point claimed Carl made it but the man with the final say-so, head-linesman Joseph Dunn, said no (after considerable delay and nodding to other officials) and that was that. Three plays after the ensuing kickoff the game ended.

Marron Outstanding Back

Both teams were so sensational on offense that it would be difficult to single out one player but due to the fact that he scored four Windber touchdowns and helped set up the other two, Windber's Tom Marron would have to take the honors for outstanding back.

Monessen's entire backfield deserves a big hand, however, for Quarterback Dan Barton, halfbacks Ken Bronson and Joe Karbowsky and Fullback Carl Rattay all played brilliant ball.

The Niccolaimen got off on the wrong foot when in their first series of downs they managed to be penalized, gain four yards and then fumble the ball away to Windber with Marron (there's that man again) recovering.

In between the initial score which came for the Ramblers shortly after the fumble recovering on quarterback Bob Minetti to end Al Tavalsky pass until the Greyhounds' last-second tally, the scoring went something like this:

Barton passed 46 yards to Bronson in the first quarter to set up a TD which Barton garnered on a "keeper" around left end. Joe Karbowsky's plunge for the extra point was short (weakness which plagued both teams all night).

After the first series of Windber downs in the second quarter following the Monessen kickoff after Barton's score, the brainy 'Hound quarterback took a punt on his own 16-yard line and slipped it to Ken Bronson on a cross-over, Bronson galloping (and tip-toeing) 84 yards for the score and a 12-6 count after Bob Pauline's placement for the extra point was wide.

Lightning-Like Scores

In lightning-like fashion the 'Hounds had an 18-6 lead when on another punt following the very next series of downs for Windber (after the second Monessen kickoff); Barton faked the handoff to Bronson, kept the ball and made it to the Windber 20 where he deftly latteraled to Rattay who raced over for the score, the play covering 66 yards. Barton's run for the point failed.

Two plays later following the third Monessen kickoff, Marron started his evening of fun with a 40-yard dash to set up a Minitti to Don Dona pass, good for a TD and an 18-12 count after Tavalsky failed in a placement attempt.

A short while later, in the second quarter, it was 19-18 Windber when Marron dashed eight yards to paydirt after a Minitti to Tavalsky pass and Tavalsky converted.

Monessen roared back with 62-yard drive which saw Rattay plunge for the touchdown but a pass attempt for the extra-point failed, for a 24-19 lead, the halftime score.

For awhile it appeared the torrid scoring had ended when the second half opened but suddenly the 'Hounds were moving on a 60-yard drive which featured the running of Rattay and Joe Karbowsky with Karbowsky going over from the one for the tally and also adding the only point after the locals could make, for what seemed to be a comfortable 31-19 margin.

That Man Marron Again

But Marron opened up again with a 60 yard run TD and then a 12-yard dash after the ensuing kickoff had rolled dead on the Monessen two and a partially blocked punt gave Windber the ball on the Hound 19. Tavalsky, suddenly finding the range, converted after both of those scores, and Monessen was behind 32-31.

Marran then reeled off a 32-yard scamper but no extra point and a 38-31 margin, which stood until a half-minute to play when Barton hit Bronson with that pass for the final tally and that was the ball game after Rattay's plunge was "voted" short by the officials.

The great offensive nature of the game can be shown by the 16-9 first downs (Monessen's favor), the 413 yards gained by MHS to Windber's 309 plus the eight completed passes out of 10 for the Ramblers' Minitti. Marron gained a total of 236 yards.

It was a game the fans of Windber and Monessen won't forget or quit playing for a long time.

DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

By CARY MIDDLECOFF

Keep Swing Simple

Keep your golf swing simple! The more complicated the swing, the less consistent the swing, and the more likely it will be to crack under close-match pressure.

Your backswing should be a means of getting your hands in proper hitting position, and the downswing involves bringing the clubhead into the ball square to the intended line of flight. Both should be thought of as one, fluid unit.

Backswing body action — the turning of hips and shoulders, the transfer of weight to the right leg, the inward turn of left knee and ankle — gets the hands in the proper position at the top. The same goes for the downswing. The weight goes back over to the left leg, the left hip turns out of the way, the shoulders turn, the right leg relaxes — all for the purpose of letting the hands perform uninterruptedly.

Pirates Take Double Licking

Musial Is Sparking Card Bid

'Miracle' Has Mates Closing in

By FRED DOWN

Stan Musial's return in a familiar hero's role today fired the St. Louis Cardinals' bid for a miracle pennant but it's still Milwaukee's National League flag unless the Braves blow sky high.

The Cardinals' threat became the "real thing" Sunday when they climbed to within 2½ games of the front-runners by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9-6 and 11-3, while the Braves dropped a 10-inning, 3-2 decision to the Philadelphia Phillies. The Cardinals made up six games on the Braves by taking nine of their last 11 games and still have games remaining to them, including a vital three - game series in Milwaukee, Sept. 23-24-25.

The reason for the spectacular turn the race has taken is simple: The Cardinals are hitting and the Braves aren't. The slugging Redbirds have scored a total of 91 runs in taking 9 of 11. The faltering Braves have tallied a total of 30 (and made only 75 hits) in losing 8 of 11.

Musial Resumes Attack

Musial, the fellow who really can keep the Cardinal attach humming, resumed his regular status Sunday and contributed three key hitstwo doubles and a single—to the Redbirds' two-game 25-hit total. Ken Boyer and 42-year-old Walker Cooper hammered out homers in the opener, clinched by a six-run, fifth-inning rally, and Wally Moon smashed out two homers and two singles in the nightcap, salted away early with five runs in the first inning.

Behind that sort of bombarding, Herm Wehmeier gained his 10th win and Sam Jones his 12th—although both needed help from the bullpen.

The Braves' attack, meanwhile, amounted to five singles and a double by Joe Adcock. Even so, Warren Spahn carried a 2-1 lead into the ninth when the Phillies tied the score on singles by Willie Jones, Richie Ashburn and Chico Fernandez, followed by a double play. Singles by Granny Hamner, Bob Bowman and Eddie Kazanski won it for the Phillies in the 10th and tagged Spahn with his 10th defeat compared to 19 victories.

Braves In Slump

The Braves' mass batting slump is reflected by their batting averages in the last 11 games: Ed Mathews, .289 (including 0-for-10 in the last 3 games), Hank Aaron, .214; Red Schoendienst, .250; Johnny Logan, .091; Frank Torre, .121; Del Crandall, .238, Wes Covington, .256 and Bob Hazle, .208.

Frank Robinson knocked in four runs with a homer and a single and Bob Thurman, Ed Bailey and pticher Hal Jeffcoat also homered as the Cincinnati Redlegs whacked the Brooklyn Dodgers, 1-6, and the Chicago Cubs downed the New York Giants, 6-2 and 7-6, in other NL games.

In the American League, the New York Yankees went about the business of wrapping up Casey Stengel's eighth pennant in nine years with 5-3 and 3-0 victories over the Kansas City Athletics. The sweep increased the Yankees' lead to 5½ games despite a last-ditch Chicago White Sox 3-1 win over the Washington Senators and reduced New York's "magic number" to seven.

Hart - Cotton in TV Bout Tonight

NEW YORK (UP)—Each fighter will be seeking a comeback tonight when welterweight Sugar Hart meets middleweight Charley Cotton in a TV 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

It will be televised by DuMont at 10:30 p.m. e.d.t.

Young Hart of Philadelphia hasn't fought since July 9, when he was stopped in the eighth round by Virgil Akins.

The Sugar Boy i sfavored at 3-1 to beat Cotton tonight because Toledo Charley went into a tailspin shortly after last year's two victories over Joey Giardello, now ranked fourth among middleweights.

Six Steelers Given Axe by Coach Parker

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)— New coach Buddy Parker and his Pittsburgh Steelers, smarting from a 37-10 loss to the Chicago Bears, started drills today for their final exhubition game against the Green Bay Packers at Municipal Stadium.

Missing from the squad as the practice started here were three Steeler veterans and three other players picked up in inter-club shuffles.

The Steelers with "time in" who were cut loose were quarterback Jack Scarbath, who came to pro football from the University of Maryland; halfback Henry Ford, a former Pitt star and Jack O'Brien who started his college ball at the University of Florida.

Placed on the waiver list were Ted Wegert, a non-collegian picked up from the Philadelphia Eagles; tackle Tom Gulan, from Mississippi State and the Cleveland Browns, and guard George Kennard, who came from Kansas and the New York Giants.

The Steelers, riding a two-game winning streak in their exhibition schedule, ran into deep trouble at Pittsburgh Saturday night.

The Bears passed for four touchdowns and end Ed Meadows tallied another on a 50-yard run after recovering a fumble. Three of the six-pointers were made by Willie Gallimore, a rookie back Florida A & M. George Blanda added a field goal as well as kicking four conversions.

The only Pittsburgh touchdown was scored by the now-departed Scarbath on a sneak. Gary Glick kicked a field goal as well as the conversion.

Pirates Head for Cincinnati

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 16 (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, smarting from a double licking at the hands of the red hot St. Louis Cardinals, headed today for Cincinnati and a series with the Redlegs.

In the final meeting of the two clubs, the Cards beat the Pirates in the first game, 9-6, and then took the second, 11-3, with Wally Moon hammering two home runs and a pair of singles.

Herman Wehmeier and Sam Jones picked up their 10th and 12th victories respectively, but both needed help from the bullpen crew.

St. Louis scored five runs in the first inning of the nightcap and held the advantage all the way. Moon hit his 27th home run in the fourth with a man on to push the score to 7-0.

Moon homered again in the sixth and his team tacked on a pair in the seventh and one in the eighth to outdistance the Pirates, who scored one run in the sixth and two in the seventh.

In the first game, the Cardinals spotted the Pirates a 3-0 lead in the second inning, pulled even with a single run in their half of that frame and two in the fourth, and then touched off a six-run burst in the fifth.

Eddie Kasko drove in three runs for the Cards and Ken Boyer and Walker Cooper highlited the big inning with home runs.

Blake Rehired

MONTREAL (UP) — Hector (Toe) Blake, who took over as coach of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League three years ago when the late Dick Irvin left to coach the Chicago Black Hawks, has signed to coach the Canadiens for his third season. Blake signed for one year and it was believed he received an increase in salary.

Cleveland Browns Start Season as Another Club—No Quarterback

By JOE DURBIN

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—The Cleveland Browns, who dominated the National Football League title picture for six years, enter the 1957 season as just another club.

Despite the finest array of running backs in the Browns' history, their chances of regaining their Eastern Division crown are darkened by lack of a proven quarterback and an unusually large number of rookies.

If the Browns do regain the title, it will be through the efforts of their newcomers labeled by Coach Paul Brown as the best group of new men we have had in years."

Cleveland's efforts to regain the championship will be directed by quarterback Tommy O'Connell, who beat out six other candidates for the job. The former Illinois star has greatly improved since being released by the Chicago Bears midway through last season. After joining the Browns he sparked them to three victories in their last five games.

Emphasis On Running

"The team has a lot of confidence in Tommy," observes Brown. O'Connell will be backed by rookies Johnny Borton, former Ohio State star and Milt Plum of Penn State, and Jim Haluska, also obtained from the Bears.

Since O'Connell's passing is still largely unproven, the Browns will shift the emphasis of their attack to running this season.

Heading the running attack will be Jimmy Brown, 1956 Syracuse All-American. Although a halfback in college, Brown has played fullback in the Browns' exhibition games and has shown speed and power. He appears to have won the job from veterans Ed Modzelewski and Maurice Bassett and rookie Frank Purnell.

Preston Carpenter, who plied up 756 yards in his rookie season to lead the club in rushing last year, heads the list of fine halfbacks. Others are Billy Reynolds and Chet (The Jet) Hanlulak, returning from military service, Lew Carpenter, obtained from Detroit, and Olympic decathlon champion Milt Campbell.

Renfro a Threat

The Browns' attack also includes flanker halfback Ray Renfro, one of the fastest backs in the business and a standout pass receiver.

However, the lack of offensive ends may force Brown to move either Renfro or Preston Carpenter to the wing. Dante Lavelli, a charter member of the Browns, has retired and Pete Brewster is currently sidelined with a slight shoulder separation.

Lou Groza, the only original Brown still with the club, will handle the place kicking and play offensive tackle along with another veteran, big Mike McCormack.

Newcomer Art Hunter, former Notre Dame star, will open at center in place of Frank Gatski, who also has retired.

Veteran guards Herschel Forester and Harold Bradley will complete the offensive lineup, with newcomers Jim Ray Smith and Fred Robinson behind them.

A Strong Defense

The Browns defense, best in the league last year, is expected to be equally strong this year. Two exceptional newcomers are bidding for end positions. Bill Quinlan appears set on the left side while Paul Wiggin is giving Lenny Ford, a 10-year veteran, a battle for the other side.

Don Colo and Bob Gain will open at defensive tackles with rookie Henry Jordon backing them up. Rookie linebacker, Vince Costello from Ohio University, the major surprise of the training period, will open as middle linebacker flanked by veterans Chuck Noll and Walter Michaels. Second-year man Galen Fiss will back them up.

In the defense secondary, rookie Bobby Freeman is giving veteran Don Paul a battle for the right corner. The other backs are holdovers Warren Lahr, Ken Konz and Junior Wren.

After the great decline of 1956, the Browns obviously are picking up the pieces, and pointing back toward the top. Whether, with so many personnel changes, they can make it to a title or even into contention is questionable.

Vernon PTA in Reception Here

Vernon Parent Teacher Association will honor the teachers and supervisors in the local schools at a reception this evening in the Bellmar High School auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Myrtle Johnston, president, will be in charge, and plans will be outlined for the year.

The program will be highlighted by a talk by Robert VanBremen, supervising principal of the Bellmarette Joint Schools.

A social hour has also been arranged in the gymnasium following the formal program in order that the parents may meet the teachers informally. At this time there will be two guest awards given to those attending.

Girl Scout Troop To Meet Thursday

Members of Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 6 will meet on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Girl Scout Little House for the regular session with leader, Mrs. William Myers and her assistant, Betty Jo Costello, in charge.

The girls are asked to each bring their handbooks. They are also asked to present ideas to work on in order to obtain second class badges in arts and crafts.

North Belle Vernon School Board in Meeting Thursday

President Steve Ruby was in charge of the routine meeting of the North Belle Vernon School Board held Thursday evening in the Bellmar High School Library.

All board members, Carmine Natalini, George Boston, Clifford Breakwell and Dr. Harold Underwood were in play. Elementary Supervisor Joseph Brisbane was also present.

The tax collector's and financial reports were approved. A letter was read from the Pennsylvania Economy League requesting information concerning tax collections last year. The secretary, Clifford Breakwell, was authorized to send this communication.

Chief of Police M. E. Anthony was retained as attendance officer for the current school term.

Natalini and Boston were named to attend the Fayette County School Directors convention in Uniontown on Oct. 7 and 8. The business sessions will be held in the Fayette County courthouse. A banquet will also be held at Shadyside Inn.

The audit was reviewed and accepted for the year.

James Tiernan, a resident of the borough, was present and submitted an affidavit concerning a niece, who will reside with him. She will be permitted to attend school as a resident.

A resolution was passed correcting a clerical error made on delinquent property taxes collected last year and sent in to Westmoreland County.

Ladies Guild in Regular Card Party

The Ladies Guild of St. Sebastian Roman Catholic Church will sponsor the regular monthly card party this evening at 6 o'clock in St. Sebastian school rooms. All types of cards will be played and prizes will be awarded.

The sale of pizza will be conducted during the party. It will be prepared and ready at 5 p.m. for take out orders.

Last Sunday the guild conducted a bake sale after each mass. It was very successful and earned more than $222 for the church building fund. Mrs. Dena Gazza and Mrs. Helen Cernicky were the general chairmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bauer and family of Wood St. spent the week end at their summer cottage at Spillway Lake.

The Missionary Society of the First Christian Church will meet on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Jack Frazier of Short St. The meeting was postponed from last Thursday evening.

Legion Ladies Auxiliary Plans For Card Parties

The Ladies Auxiliary to Belle Vernon American Legion Post 659 will resume the Thursday evening card parties this week. There was a brief recess while the meeting room at the Legion Home was being redecorated.

The parties were actually resumed last week, however last Thursday's party was held to benefit the Vernon Parent Teacher Association.

Mrs. Sellin Price, ways and means chairman for the PTA, and her co-chairman, Mrs. Sadie Myers were in charge with the assistance of members of their committee. The party was well attended.

Winning the special prizes were Lewis Sotta, Mrs. Bruce, Mary Kuhn and Patty Ledgerton. Guest awards went to Norma Sedok, Mary Bashada, Rose Beazell and Emma Jarvis.

Many card awards were made. Mrs. Helen Thieser, Mrs. Catherine Eversburg, Mrs. Von Ewart, James Davis, Alice Sotta, Donna Evans and Charles Venneri won euchre awards; Mrs. Anna Irons, bridge; Norma Sedok, Vilma Renner, Mrs. T. Jones, Helene Winn, Elaine Bucko, Emma Jarvis, Mary Klawcho and Mrs. Moleski.

This was the second such party held by the auxiliary for the PTA.

Washington Twp. PTA Meeting

Washington Township Parent Teacher Association will begin a new year of activity this evening with the annual reception in the gymnasium of the Marion Junior High School. Township teachers will be honored on the occasion.

Mrs. John Stump, newly elected president of the unit, will be in charge.

The program will feature Alfred Bartoletti, a teacher in the Brownsville Schools, as guest speaker. He has traveled extensively in the Orient and will tell of his trip.

A social hour has been planned under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Nahaj and Mrs. Clifford Osterom, social chairman and co-chairman.

Vernon Nine Club At Ritzer Home

The Vernon Nine Club resumed activities on Thursday evening after an inactive summer season. A meeting was held at the home of Mrs. George Ritzer of Gibsonton.

Two tables of five hundred were in play and high score prizes were won by Mrs. Milan Franceschi, Mrs. Frank Toia and Mrs. Vincent Mancuso.

Special awards were won by Mrs. Lloyd Haffner and Mrs. Michael Costello.

Luncheon was served, and plans were made to meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Anthony Zbyl.

J. W. Madigans Honor Guests at 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James P. Ferguson of Belle Vernon entertained at a luncheon at their home honoring the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Madigan of Fisher Heights. The occasion was their golden wedding anniversary. They were wed Sept. 10, 1907.

The Madigans started their anniversary observance by repeating their nuptial vows at St. Sebastian Roman Catholic Church.

After luncheon the honored couple received relatives and friends informally at the Ferguson home during the afternoon and evening.

Buffet refreshments were served from a table centered with a tiered wedding cake topped with a double wedding ring. The cake was surrounded with an arrangement of golden chrysanthemums.

Among the guests were two other couples, who had observed golden anniversaries. They were Mrs. Madigan's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Soisson of Connellsville and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dixon of Washington D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Madigan are the parents of three children, Mrs. Ferguson and two sons, Eugene Madigan of Washington, formerly of Belle Vernon and J. William Madigan of Fisher Heights. They also have 12 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mr. Madigan started the Gene and Boots candy business in Charleroi. He retired in 1942.

RR Excursion Trip Planned For October

Joseph E. Ferrari, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad Family Club of the Monongahela Valley, has announced plans for another excursion train to Altoona.

Last year there was a large number of Belle Vernon people, mostly school children, among the 8500 that made the trip.

Saturday, Oct. 12, is the date chosen for the all day trip. At that time the route followed by the train is expected to be at the height of its beauty. One of the highlights of the trip is traveling around the horseshoe curve.

Tickets will be sold for the trip in the local schools. The train will probably leave here about 8:30 a. m.

If this excursion is as successful as last year's trip it will be made an annual project.

Altar boys of St. Sebastian Church will meet tomorrow evening at 6:30 for the weekly session. At 7:30 tomorrow evening choir rehearsal will be held in the church.

Bob Beggs, son of Dr. and Mrs. John L. Beggs of Broad Ave., left yesterday for Allegheny College at Meadville, where he is enrolled as a freshman. He was graduated from Bellmar High School with the 1957 class.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nelson and family of Clarksburg, W. Va. spent the week end with Mrs. Fannie Parenti of Broad Ave.

John Hewitt, who has finished boot training in the U. S. Navy, at Bainbridge, Md., spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hewitt of Broad Ave. He will enter Naval Academy Prep School on his return.

Hoffa to Get Word Today

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate Rackets Committee promised to tell Teamster "crown prince" James R. Hoffa today whether it plans more hearings on his activities before he seeks his union's presidency later this month.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) planned to reply to Hoffa's request that his further appearance be postponed until after the Teamster convention starting Sept. 30 — unless the hearings are held early this week. The election will take place at the convention.

Kennedy already has ruled out the possibility of hearings this week on the Hoffa case. With a number of aides, the young chief counsel has recently returned from Hoffa's Detroit headquarters on committee spade work Kennedy called "productive."

The trip sparked reports in labor and congressional circles that the committee would recall Hoffa before the convention which convenes at Miami Beach, Fla.

TELLIS OF SYRIA PERIL — Movie Producer Darryl F. Zanuck, with a head bandage covering 17 stitches, is shown on his arrival in New York. Zanuck reopened an old ski wound when he bumped his head in a plane over Nairobi, Africa, being photographed for his new film. He was warned a month ago not to fly the plane over Syria because of the danger of "being knocked out of the air" by Russian jets.

Has Plan for Resettling Southern Negroes

ATLANTA (UP)—State Rep. A. A. Fowler Jr. today claimed at least five southern states will support his plan for resettling southern Negroes among northern whites who are most critical of the South.

The Alabama Senate endorsed the idea with one dissenting vote two days ago and Fowler says he has received favorable response among legislative and administrative leaders of Georgia and three other states.

Fowler predicts that as a result some publicly outspoken critic of the South's segregation customs may within a year or two find on one-day notice or less that a Negro family from Georgia has become his next-door neighbor.

What the Alabama Senate endorsed, and what Fowler will propose to the Georgia Legislature in January, is that a southern commission quietly buy up homes for resettling Negroes where it will do the most good."

"It will stimulate a reappraisal by good conscience-stricken people," Fowler said. There is no question in my mind that one result will be a new appreciation for the position of the people in the South."

Whether the proposed commission will use public or private funds is a detail to be worked out later, Fowler said. In any case, it will secretly buy homes in the best neighborhoods, and resell to carefully selected Negro applicants.

In plain language Fowler wants to give the South's critics a chance to "practice what they preach." This, he said, is a new "educational" approach to resolving sectional differences.

Fowler said he got a big response from trial ads he has run in the weekly Douglas County Sentinel at his home in Douglasville, Ga., offering "opportunities" for Negro families to live in "integrated northern residential areas."

Fowler denies he wants merely to reduce the Negro popuation of the South, and said he has no interest in pouring more migrants into the burgeoning "Negro sections" of northern cities.

Spontaneous migration under economic influence already far exceeds the volume of resettling that the proposed commission could handle, he said. The commission would move only several hundred families from each southern state participating.

Greatest care will be devoted to choosing relocation sites "in the best residential and suburban" areas "to bring home to the citizens the facts about the integration problem."

"This will prick the conscience of good Americans to such an extent that they will realize the hypocracy of their position and join with the South in saying what the South has been living by for years.

'And that is, separate but equal treatment of the races is really the only system that will work."

This, Fowler said, "is a fundamental approach to the broad question of returning constitutional government to America."

Dangerous Turn

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (UP)—Rudy Vrba nursed four broken fingers today just because he signaled to make a left turn in his car. As Vrba stuck his hand out the window, another car whizzed by. A youngster in the rear seat of the other auto stuck a baseball bat out the window, striking Vrba's outstretched hand.

Ike Keeps Free Schedule Today; To Hear Reports

NEWPORT, R. I. (UP) — President Eisenhower kept to a relatively free schedule today, but with the Little Rock, Ark., school integration crisis foremost in his mind.

Mr. Eisenhower showed concern about the Little Rock situation, but appeared to be working from a realization that Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus may require time to comply with Federal Court orders to integrate Central High School.

The Chief Executive looked forward to a day of light duties with the exception of a report from Robert Cutler, his special assistant for national security matters. Cutler will brief the President on last Thursday's meeting of the National Security Council in Washington.

Sunday, Eisenhower was confronted with the integration problem as he attended services at the First Presbyterian Church, where a visiting Navy chaplain inveighed against racial intolerance.

Chaplain Valery Sundt offered his congregation a "prayer for patience not to judge." pointing out examples of intolerance near Newport itself.

Capital Hotel Strike Threat

WASHINGTON (UP) — Union employes in major capital hotels have voted to strike if negotiations on a new contract collapses.

Members of six locals of the Hotel and Restaurant and Bartenders Employes International took the vote last night after their contract expired during the week end. But union representatives indicated more meetings would be held in search of a settlement before a strike of more than 5,000 workers is called.

One union leader said management offered to reduce the 48-hour week to 40 hours during the next five years. But, he said, the employes demanded the 40-hour week immediately.

Equitable's Living Insurance Family Style

Here is personal coverage on each insured member of your family under one single policy with a choice of two plans...

A Family Protection plan providing insurance on dad, mother and the children...and a Family Security plan providing a valuable savings feature, too.

Now The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the U.S. offers you this new and unique choice in family insurance. Its benefits are different from any offered the American family.

Here is your opportunity to have low-cost Living Insurance fit the needs and aspirations of your own family.

In other words, this is a take-what-you-need proposition. In Living Insurance Family Style you pick the plan that suits your family best. Here's how it works.

Family Protection

If you're a young father, your primary interest probably is immediate individual coverage on yourself, your wife and your children. Then Family Protection is your plan and here's what you get for each unit.

$5,000 of permanent insurance coverage on yourself . . . insurance with cash values that increase each year and on which you can borrow money in time of emergency.

$3,000 immediate coverage on your wife to age 30 . . . term insurance giving maximum protection during the critical years, decreasing gradually and terminating at her age 65.

$1,000 of coverage on each insured child under 18 . . . term insurance to age 25 or mother's age 65, whichever occurs first, may then be converted to permanent insurance without medical examination up to 5 times the amount of term insurance. Automatic coverage at no extra cost is provided for future children beginning when they are at least 14 days old.

Family Security

On the other hand, suppose you want the advantages of family coverage but feel that you'd like a greater amount of cash in hand when you reach retirement age.

Then the Family Security plan is for you. Here's what you get for each unit.

$3,000 of endowment coverage on your life payable in cash when you are 65 or payable on death before your age 65.

$1,000 of endowment coverage on your wife payable in cash on the very same day that the coverage on your life matures as an endowment—or payable on her prior death.

$1,000 of coverage on each insured child under 18 . . . term insurance to age 25 or your age 65, whichever occurs first. The Family Security plan also contains conversion privilege for the children, and automatic coverage for future children.

Built-in Benefits

The Family Protection Policy and the Family Security Policy are available in amounts up to a total of 3 units. Both plans have valuable built-in features. For example, if father dies, insurance on mother and children is automatically paid up with no further premiums due.

Take a long and careful look at your family now. Then send in the coupon below for complete details on Living Insurance Family Style.

Valuable Offer

If you act promptly, you will also receive a handy Equitable Baby Sitters' Memo and a convenient chart for measuring and recording your children's day-by-day growth!

Movie Actress Begins New Career Tuesday As Diplomat for U. S.

By HENRY GRIS

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — An American actress who has triumphed in such varied roles as Britain's Queen Victoria and a Norwegian housewife begins a new career Tuesday: Diplomat.

Irene Dunne will be a member of the United States delegation to the United Nations General Assembly, convening in New York.

Irene Dunne

This is not the case of a glamorous movie star winning the appointment after President Eisenhower saw her in a film. Instead, it is the case of a very energetic, enterprising woman who has won recognition for her work in many welfare and civic organizations.

For this reason, she has had little time for acting in recent years. Her last film, "It Grows On Trees," was made in 1952. One that preceded it, "The Mudlark," gave Miss Dunne her first international diplomatic victory.

The British press objected to an American portraying Queen Victoria in the picture. But the complaints vanished as soon as Miss Dunne appeared on the screen. Another film that made her name famous internationally was "I Remember Mama," in 1947. In that one, she worked so hard on her Norwegian accent that she couldn't get rid of it until some time after the picture was made.

Miss Dunne has made 41 pictures, dating back to 1932. This is considered a pretty slim output. One of her closest friends, Barbara Stanwyck, is nearing the 100-movie mark.

Shortly before departing for New York, Miss Dunne and her husband, Dr. Francis Griffin, went to La Casa de Maria, the Catholic retreat house at Montecito, Calif., run by the Sisters of Immaculate Heart of Mary. They spent a week end in silent contemplation and prayer.

Later, Miss Dunne learned that the directors of St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica, Calif., unanimously voted to have her retain her position as board chairman even while serving as a U.N. delegate.

Miss Dunne won't miss the so-called glamour of Hollywood. All her professional life she has managed to stay on the fringes. She has never been part of the golden Sunset Strip set.

At studios, too, Miss Dunne is known as an actress with a great degree of independence. She was one of Hollywood's first free-lancers. A picture finished, she would head for her favorite charity, or make the rounds of studio executives to collect money for a worthy cause.

"Some women," she once told a reporter, "go to bridge parties in the afternoon. The mere thought of it makes me ill. I have never attended a bridge party in my life."

First Gusts of Hurricane Carrie Slam Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UP)—The first gusts from Hurricane Carrie flit Bermuda early today and the island braced for a powerful punch by the tropical storm packing winds of up to 115 miles an hour.

The U.S. Air Force, Coast Guard and Navy evacuated most of their planes from the Kindley Air Force Base yesterday. The remaining aircraft were staked down and sandbagged.

Carrie, with gale force winds up to 75 miles an hour, extending 200 miles from the center, was bearing down on this British island resort at 13 miles an hour from the east.

The storm's center was expected to travel within 60 miles of here today. Winds of hurricane force, up to 100 miles an hour, were reported extending out 90 miles from the "eye" of the storm.

Women Collectors

YANAI, Japan (UP) — Yanai town officials said today there must be something special about women tax collectors. With about $41,670 outstanding in unpaid residence and municipal property taxes, authorities hit on the idea of employing female collectors. The arrears were completely paid up in less than a month after the women started work.

ARTHRITIS DRIVE — Joanne Jacino, 7 of Flushing, N. Y., designated the Junior Phone Chairman of the New York Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, calls her friends to remind them to tell their parents to volunteer for service in the Foundation's door-to-door campaign for funds. The national drive officially starts October 21.

State Realtors In Philadelphia For Convention

PHILADELPHIA (UP)- Some 500 realtors in the state were on hand here today for the opening of the 37th annual convention of the Pennsylvania Realtors Association.

Kenneth S. Keyes, Miami, Fla., president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, was scheduled to be the featured speaker at today's session. Walter H. Geary Jr., Philadelphia, will head a scheduled panel discussion on appraisals.

Shopping centers will be the topic of discussion Tuesday at a panel session in the afternoon. Dr. Tennyson Guyer, of Findlay, Ohio, will address the meeting that evening.

More than 100 members of the association are scheduled to take a boat tour of the Port of Philadelphia on Wednesday. The tour was arranged by the Philadelphia chapter of the Society of Industrial Realtors in cooperation with the city's Department of Commerce.

Explosion Rips Japanese Ship At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (UP)- An explosion of undetermined origin ripped through a Japanese coal freighter tied up at a South Philadelphia pier Sunday, killing one man and injuring six others, one critically.

William McCarthy, 31, of Philadelphia, was killed when the blast rocked the number three hold of the Kisoharu Maru.

Five stevedores and one crewman, Kinje Hashimoto, 28, Okaida, Japan, were also in the hold when the blast occurred. They were taken to two nearby hospitals.

John Olson, 32, Philadelphia, was listed in critical condition from burns.

The freighter docked at the pier at Delaware and Washington Aves. early Sunday carrying 5,000 tons of coal from Norfolk, Va.

Fire broke out from the explosion, but firemen had the blaze under control within minutes.

Fayette Beagle Club Trials Are Completed

The Fayette Beagle Club held its annual A.K.C. Licensed Trial, last week, at the Club's grounds near Fayette City.

There was a total of 181 dogs entered in the four classes.

John Greer and Harry Yeager of Volant, Pa. were the judges. Three professional handlers attended the affair: Dale Sutton of Hodgenville, Ky. Lamar Laney of Malden, N. C. and Tom Moore of Port Washington, Ohio. Mrs. Sutton accompanied her husband.

Goosa River Calhoon, a thirteen inch female owned by A. L. Stanford and handled by Mr. Laney completed her championship when she placed first in her class.

On September 7, the trials were for the 15 inch female class. Top winners were Baldwin's Nell, owned by T. A. Mayberry and handled by Moore, First, Hi Sugar, owned by A. Black and C. Furnier and handled by Moore, second; Doogan of Parsons and Hoppy, third, and Bangaway Busy, handled by his owner Charles Watson, fourth. The reserve award in this class went to Plum Hollow Red Lady.

Fifteen inch males had 34 starters on September 8. Parsons One Spot was first. He was handled by his owner Paul O. Percival. Kale's Butch owned by Katherine Harris and handled by Laney was second. Poole's Emperor was third, Bosch's Tom Tom, fourth and the reserve prize went to Tur Mon Dix.

The thirteen inch male class started with 46 entries. Jacob's Joe was first, War Trail Jackie, second; Griffin's Tiny Tim, third, Mountain Home Blue Dispatch, fourth. The reserve award went to Moore's Tom.

The largest field was the 13 inch class of females with 65 starters. It was in this competition that Goosa River Calhoon finished her championship which requires a given number of mentions in first and second places obtained through other trials. Baker's Jill was second. Charlie's Sunshine Julie was third and Hi Nabisco Debby was fourth. The reserve winner was Callaway Chee Chee. No member of the Fayette Beagle Club was fortunate enough to have his dog place among the high winners.

During the days of the trials the members of the Women's Auxiliary to the Beagle Club prepared meals that were available to the owners, handlers, members and spectators.

Methodist Church Society Projects Outlined Here

The Woman's Society for Christian Service of the Fayette City Methodist Church met in the social rooms of the church for its regular monthly meeting last Thursday.

Mrs. Frank Devers, chairman of program, presented Mrs. Robert White, vice-president of the McKeesport District as the guest speaker.

Mrs. White in her talk described the program for the coming year and also explained the World Federation of the Woman's Society for Christian Service.

Carolyn Barker entertained with two piano selections. The business meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Edwin Hindmarsh. Announcements were made of the district seminar to be held at the Monessen Methodist Church on Thursday, and of the Monessen-McKeesport sub-district meeting to be held at Newell on Friday, October 18.

Mrs. Read Brightwell and Mrs. Clarence Young, co-chairmen of Local Church Activities reported the plans made for the annual old-fashioned chicken and ham dinner to be sponsored by the Woman's Society on Saturday, Sept. 28. The dinner will be held in the church beginning at 4:30 p.m. The affair with its checked table covers, oil lamps and other features of fifty years ago, has been attracting hundreds of people from the valley. This year is expected to be no exception and the committee is hoping to add several additional surprise features.

There was a discussion of the Harvest Moon Festival being held this year at the Fayette City Community Center. The committees were named and were instructed to start their work at as early a date as possible. This year's event will feature a cooking demonstration by the West Penn Power Company, a doll clothes booth, a novelty booth, handcraft, baked goods and candy and the usual snack bar. It will be held on Friday evening, November 8.

October's project will be a surprise calender. The calenders were given to each member of the Society. Over each date instructions for the day were posted, with certain fines being imposed for given things on that day. The food for slaves.

money will be presented by the members of the November meeting and will be used for the Mission Fund.

A social hour followed, hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Jacob Zubovic, Mrs. Clarence Young, Mrs. Clyde Wyatt, and Mrs. James Wilson.

Legion Auxiliary To See Display Of Cut Glass

An interesting evening is being arranged by the American Legion auxiliary to the Brightwell-Daugherty Post for Friday evening at 8 o'clock when Jess Shakelford of Waynesburg will present his display of fine cut glass.

Shakelford, who has been cited for his work in national magazines, has worked with well-known houses of fine glass in the Pennsylvania area.

He will tell about the qualities of glass as well as explaining the methods of cutting. His display will be used for a basis for orders from which the Auxiliary will receive a revenue to carry on their work.

Mrs. Joseph Williams, president of the Auxiliary, has named the committee for the event. Mrs. William Opfar will serve as chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. Thomas Conway, Mrs. Charles Yusko, Mrs. Charles Beazell, Mrs. Christian Dryer, and Mrs. Charles Kuhns.

Refreshments will be served. No charge will be made and a special invitation to attend has been extended to the women of the community.

The Carribbean island of Jamaica owes its breadfruit crops to Captain Bligh of "HMS Bounty" fame. The Pacific plant was imported as an inexpensive starch for slaves.

Woman's Club to Open Season Here

The Fayette City Woman's Club will open the season tonight with a Tenth anniversary party that will be in the form of a Tureen dinner.

Events of the past ten years will be recalled. An informal program of music will follow the dinner program.

Hostesses for the dinner are: Mrs. Joseph Williams, Mrs. Louis Alberta, Mrs. Joseph Butler, Mrs. Joseph Ciavarra and Mrs. Mildred Janeri.

Pricedale Church Members Honor Retiring Minister

A farewell party was held Friday at the Pricedale Church recreation hall for the Rev. and Mrs. George Guest by members of the congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Guest, church pastor since 1940, has retired.

A devotional meeting opened with Clarence Bush in charge. It included the singing of a collection of songs with Erma Echart as accompanist. Mr. Bush read scripture from the second chapter of Timothy, basing his remarks on the seventh verse of the fourth chapter which says "I Have Fought a Good Fight. I Have Finished My Course, I Have Kept the Faith." Mr. Bush said these words were "very fitting" to the life of the Rev. Mr. Guest.

Mr. Bush stated that during the Rev. Mr. Guest's pastorship, the latter officiated at 25 weddings, 125 baptisms, nearly 850 prayer services, 44 funeral services and delivered over 900 sermons.

Charles Quinn spoke on the retired pastor's work and presented the Rev. Mr. Guest and his wife with a cash gift.

The couple expressed their thanks and appreciation for "the kindness and love" shown them during their stay at Pricedale Church. They then showed films of a recent trip to Colorado.

Lunch was served by the women of the church, following which the Rev. Mr. Guest offered prayer. The group formed a friendship circle and sang "Blest be the Tie that Binds" and repeated the benediction.

The couple left for Washington, D.C., Saturday to visit their son and family before going to Florida for an indefinite stay.

Post-Nuptial Shower Held For Jean Broda

A post-nuptial shower was held Thursday in Pricedale recreation hall for Mrs Jean Tintori Broda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tintori, of Hill St.

Entertainment included group singing under the direction of Velma Gray accompanied by Emma Greenwood. A reading, "Nest Eggs on Husbands", was given by Elsie Howarth.

Games were led by Judy Lorinchak and prizes were awarded to Margaret Radek, Ruth Evans, Velma Gray, Alice Graham and Janet Robinsoh. The door prize was won by Mrs. George Green. The cake walk was won by Ruth Evans.

The hall was decorated with pink and white streamers and white bells. The many gifts were placed on a table beneath a pink and white umbrella. Mrs. Broda was assisted in opening the gifts by her sister, Lorraine Tintori and Judy Lorinchak.

Lunch was served buffet style from a table with a floral centerpiece and candelabras.

Jean Tintori became the bride of William Broda in July. Her husband is now stationed in Germany. She is employed in the office of Bellmar High School and will live with her parents until her husband returns from overseas.

Rev. Gajdosik Honor Guest At Testimonial

Rev. Joseph Gajdosik, pastor of Holy Name Church in Monessen was guest of honor at a testimonial banquet last night co-sponsored by the two Rostraver Twp. parishes he organized.

St. Anne, Fellburg, and Holy Cross, Webster, paid tribute to their former pastor in an affair at the Slovak Home, Monessen. About 200 attended.

Father Gajdosik has served as pastor of both parishes until recently when Rev. Andrew Hredzak was appointed.

Father Hredzak presented the guest of honor with a cash gift, given by members of the two parishes.

Also receiving gifts were two other priests who assisted in organizing the township Catholic parishes: Rev. Theodore Benkovic and Rev. Henry Marcinek.

Unable to attend the banquet were Rev. John Sabol and Rev Stephen Drab, both of whom will be mailed awards.

Speakers in addition to the honored guests were James Sabo, president of the St. Anne Church Committee, and Paul Amoroso, president of the Holy Cross Church Committee. They praised Father Gajdosik on behalf of their respective parishes.

Introduced were officers of the respective altar societies who assisted in preparing the event.

Entertainment was provided by vocalist Sandra Uram of Fellsburg, who was accompanied by Rose Marie Noswarich, also of Fellsburg.

Serving as toastmaster was Allen Kline.

Carol Lewis is Guest at Post-Nuptial Shower

A post-nuptial shower was held Wednesday evening in the Sunday School room of Webster Presbyterian Church for Carol Maurer Lewis. Hostess were Peg Gillingham and Dora Ritchie.

Games were played under the direction by Muriel Kriston and prizes were awarded.

Mrs. Lewis received many gifts from a table decorated in pink and white. The gifts were underneath a pink and white umbrella. She was assisted in opening the gifts by Peg Gillingham and Dora Ritchie.

Buffet lunch was served by the hostesses assisted by Gail Patterson, June Cupples and Anna Hilderbrand. The lunch table had a floral centerpiece and candelabras. A large cake had the transcription "Best Wishes to Carol and Wayne". The invocation was by Mrs. George Guest. Approximately 45 persons were present.

Muriel Kriston Class Hostess

The Goods News Bible Study Class of Webster Presbyterian Church met Thursday evening at the home of Muriel Kriston with Kathleen Leckenby as devotional leader. Her scripture was from the 11th chapter of the Romans and the topic was "Israel versus Egypt and Russia." Devotions closed with prayer.

A question and answer period followed with Peg Gillingham in charge.

Reports were read by Dora Ritchie, secretary, and Pauline Kriston, treasurer.

Also attending was June Cupples.

Lunch was served by the hostess.

Birthday Party for Mrs. W. Katchmark

A surprise party was held Saturday honoring the 52nd birthday of Mrs. Walter Katchmark, who received many presents.

Guests included her husband; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Hamilton and daughters, Judy and Jane; Mr. and Mrs. Phil Crusan and children, Tessie, Kathy, Bud and Kevin; Mrs. Delmar Hepple and daughters, Diane, Delma, Barbara and Betty Lou; Mrs. Tony Ercegovich and children, Mary and Tony, and Edith Berger.

Change Announced

The release-time education classes of Rostraver High School being held in Pricedale Union Church will be held Wednesdays at 3 p.m instead of Thursdays.

Editors Hear Highway Safety Plea

HARRISBURG (UP)—A state highway safety official says that newspapers are in a position to play a major role in cutting the accident toll on the nation's highways.

Paul A. Stephens, a member of Gov. George M. Leader's Traffic Safety Council, told the second annual working session of the United Press Editors of Pennsylvania, that newspapers provide an excellent medium for stirring up public opinion for more traffic safety measures and tighter enforcement procedures.

Stephens, a former state representative and sponsor of amendments to the state Motor Vehicle Code, was one of the featured speakers at the session last Saturday of editors of newspapers served by UP news wires.

Another speaker, Barton E Richards, editor of the New Castle News, discussed the problems of attracting young persons into the journalism field.

Stephens blamed automobile manufacturers as well as careless drivers for the high rate of accidents because "they appear to be engaged in a horsepower race."

"They have even given car names that indicate speed," he said. "Their advertisements indicate speed is okay and they even put in some speedometers that read up to 130 miles per hour and put you on a road that isn't fit for 60 miles per hour."

He said estimates indicated 70 million automobiles will be on the nation's roads next year—traveling over facilities which should handle only 30 million vehicles.

Stephens said virtually every motorist is a "victim of bad driving habits that we have been doing so long they look good to us ...we are also faced with the problem of the driver who no longer considers it illegal or immoral to violate the Motor Code and considers it almost a game."

He deplored the Legislature's failure to adopt the bulk of the Traffic Safety Council's recommendations, particularly for legalizing use of radar.

Stephens said the radar proposal was one of a package "designed not as a procedure for mass arrests, but to take off the highway the habitual violator—the driver who may kill you or a member of your family." He cited surveys to show that radar had a "psychological" effect in keeping motorists within posted speed limits.

He suggested publishers might find it worthwhile to establish scholarships in journalism schools

3 Memorials

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Michelina Amorosi, who died 27 years ago yesterday, September 15, 1930.
We do not forget you, dear mother
Nor do we intend,
We think of you daily
And will to the end,
Gone and forgotten by
Some you may be,
But dear to our memory
Forever you'll be.
Sadly missed by Mr. and Mrs. Nick Forty, Children and Grandchildren.

In loving memory of our dear wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. Katherine Plevel, who died two years ago today, September 16, 1955.
Today our hearts are heavy,
Our thoughts are all of thee,
Oh! How we miss you, mother, dear,
No one but God can see.
Some say time heals an aching heart,
But, no, it isn't true,
For two long years have passed, dear mother,
And our hearts still ache for you
Sadly missed by Husband, Children and Grandchildren.

Gomulka Winds Up Successful Yugoslav Trip

BELGRADE (UP)— Polish Communist Party Chief Wladyslaw Gomulka winds up a seven-day state visit today apparently successful in bringing Marshal Tito closer to the Soviet camp.

The attitude among members of the Polish delegation was that Gomulka's goodwill mission on behalf of the pro-Moscow "Socialist" countries had been largely successful.

In a speech at a Polish embassy reception yesterday, Tito said he considered "national Communism" to be "stupid" and "impossible."

"I wish comrades," Tito said in answering a toast by Gomulka, 'that Poland and Yugoslavia, which have been accused of nursing national communism, would prove they do not accept any kind of national communism because it is impossible and in contradiction with the whole concept of internationalism."

Tito said the Soviet Union held the leading role in "socialism" and that all "socialist" states should strengthen their relations in order "to create confidence in the Soviet Union throughout the world."

Nixon's Friends Deny 'Deal' with Knowland

WASHINGTON (UP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon probably will support Sen. William F. Knowland for the California governorship but has made no "deal" with Knowland involving the 1960 presidential race, it was reported today.

Associates of the vice president said today Nixon insists he and Knowland have not even discussed the possibility they may be rivals for the GOP presidential nomination three years hence.

There have been rumors Nixon agreed to back Knowland for governor next year in exchange for Knowland's promise to stay out of the 1960 presidential contest.

Friends of Nixon emphatically deny this. They said Nixon is not now moving in any way to head off Knowland's 1960 prospects although capture of the California governorship next year would almost certainly put Knowland in the presidential sweepstakes two years later as a choice of the "Taft Wing" of the GOP.

Knowland, Senate Republican leader, has announced he will not seek re-election when his Senate term expires next year. While he has not said so he is expected to become a candidate for his state's governorship in 1958.

His rival would be the incumbent governor, Goodwin J. Knight. Knight already has announced his candidacy for re-election.

Nixon, according to his associates, intends to make his choice in the governorship contest on the basis of merit. It is on these grounds, it is said, that he probably will back Knowland—his associate in the Senate where both have been linked in directing strategy for President Eisenhower's legislative program.

The vice president is said to have told some of his intimates he and Knowland have never discussed the 1958 governorship fight, much less its effect on the 1960 Republican presidential race.

Nixon himself already is considered a front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination in 1960. Eisenhower cannot seek a third term because a recent constitutional amendment limits a president to two terms.

Molotov 'Present' In Outer Mongolia

LONDON (UP)—Radio Moscow yesterday listed V. M. Molotov as "among those present" in the first official mention of his activities since he was sent to Outer Mongolia.

A radio Moscow broadcast said Molotov was among those present to greet a visiting Yugoslav government delegation at Ulan Bator, capital of Outer Mongolia.

At one time the ancient Romans passed a law governing the color of women's dresses to be worn at parties and funerals.

Hearing Affects Learning

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

You've got to expect a child's school work to suffer if he can't hear everything the teacher says. As in the case of visual difficulties, which we have discussed previously, hearing troubles can and often do mean poor grades for a school-age child.

Furthermore, as I have pointed out, poor grades, failure to be promoted and a general lack of interest in school work can, and often do, lead to juvenile delinquency.

Some 3,000,000 children have hearing handicaps. Most of them have a loss which is severe enough to produce symptoms which eventually will be located. But a high proportion of children have a mild impairment which will be missed unless periodic, routine screen tests are given to all youngsters.

Most hearing defects in children can be cured, or their progress can be halted, if they are discovered early enough. Yet, as in the case of eye trouble it is not always easy to recognize an early hearing defect. But there are signals to watch for.

Be Especially Alert

You've got to be especially alert for signs of trouble if there is a history of any of the following:

1. Loss of hearing among other members of the family.

2. Complications of pregnancy, abnormal delivery, premature birth or neonatal disease which may have injured the developing fetus or caused brain damage.

3. Acute infectious disease in which the ear may be involved.

4. Repeated respiratory infection and acute otitis, which might lead to chronic middle-ear disease.

The American Public Health Association says children with such conditions in their backgrounds can be labeled as vulnerable and should be given frequent adequate tests.

Now about those signs which might indicate hearing difficulties. There are many, of course, but here are a few of the main ones.

You may suspect hearing impairment if a child habitually:

Seems more aware of movement than sound; watches a speaker's face, particularly the lips; frowns or wears a strained expression while listening; becomes inattentive; confuses words that sound alike; articulates inaccurately; develops an unusual quality to his voice; has phonetic difficulties with spelling.

Excessive fatigue, shyness among other children and slowness in learning are other possible symptoms of hearing troubles.

Question and Answer

G. P.: Is it all right for a person who has arthritis to drink orange juice?

Answer: Orange juice supplies an abundance of vitamin C and as a rule is good food for a person who has arthritis.

Elvis' Latest Tells How She Got Ring

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Elvis Presley, who's been on a merry-go-round of girl friends, finally caught the golden ring and planted it on the finger of a southern belle currently in his favor.

Trouble is, it was slipped on the third finger, right hand. It's only a friendship ring.

But friendship is better than nothing at all, according to Anita Wood, latest lovelight in Elvis' sleepy eyes.

"Ah was thrilled to death," Anita trilled in the rich accent of her native Jackson, Tenn. "We've only known one another since July 7 — and here he is giving me a ring."

Sealed With Kiss

The sparkler is strictly first class—a diamond set in gold and surrounded by 18 sapphires.

"I was too excited to remember what Elvis said when he gave it to me. But he did seal it with a kiss," she confided. "It was mighty romantic.

"Here's how it happened. Elvis was packing in his hotel room to go back to Memphis Monday night. I was in the sitting room with some other kids when he called me in. "That's when he put it on my finger."

Anita, a 19-year-old honey blonde with sparkling blue eyes, is hostess for a Memphis TV show, "Top Ten Dance Party." She's in Hollywood preparing for her first movie role in "Girl In The Woods."

She owns a pair of dimples, too.

"On our first date Elvis drove me around in his car while we got acquainted. We stopped and had hamburgers. Then he took me on a tour of his new house. He showed me all the grounds and the swimming pool.

A Purple Car

"He has six cars," she added, wide-eyed. "One of them is purple inside and out!"

Anita added modestly that Elvis kissed her goodnight on the first date.

"After that we saw a lot of each other. Mostly we went to movies, but we rode his motorcycle, went horseback riding and played badminton, too.

"I'm returning to Memphis this week before I come back out here to work in the movie. Elvis called me Friday night and we'll be dating when I get back there."

The well - rounded (35-22-35) beauty says she and the hip-swinging crooner haven't discussed marriage. But her parents and three brothers have met the teen-age idol and approve of him.

Quiz Show Alumnus On Move

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP) —TV quiz shows have escalated an army of citizens from obscurity to dizzy heights.

William Ewald

Most tumble back into nowhere again. But not Tina Robin.

Miss Robin, a 19 - year - old blonde, from Newark, N. J., carried off $30,100 from NBC-TV's "Hold That Note" last March after identifying a series of tunes over a five-week stretch.

"Hold That Note," a fairly clumsy piece of TV furniture, has since been dispatched to the boneyard — the victim of a mercy killing by NBC. However, Miss Robin, a pretty trim piece of furniture, has gone on to fame, fortune and other engagements.

An Explosive Package

A singer, Tina (her press agent gleefully refers to her as "T-N-Tina," but no reasonable citizen would hold that against her) was earning $38.50 a week in a Newark five-and-ten cent store before she landed on "Hold That Note."

In her words: "I wasn't doing so hot."

However, during her tenure on the quiz show, Tina sang two lines of "Blue Suede Shoes." Her robust attack on this cultural entry so enchanted the audience that Tina was given the chance to sing "Some Of These Days" on a subsequent show.

That did it.

"I got a recording contract with Coral Records," recalled Tina, who scales in at four-foot-eleven. "And after I got off the show, I got bookings in Cleveland, Baltimore, Detroit, Kansas City, Boston, Washington and the Roxy Theatre in New York.

She's In Demand

"They asked me to sing on Canadian TV and last month I was on the Vic Damone CBS-TV show. Now Steve Allen wants me for his show in October, Patti Page wants me for her new show and there's a chance I may go on Ed Sullivan."

Tina, who has wide eyes, looked wide-eyed about it all. "I am still a little dazed," she said. "I used to sing at weddings, parties, you know the sort of thing. I was a real music fan. I own 2000 records.

"My family wasn't very well off —we lived behind a butcher shop for a long time. And now I eat at Sardi's and I get to talk to people like Vic Damone and Sammy Davis. My manager even had to teach me to break a piece of bread at the table. I thought you should cut it."

"There has been one other change, too. It used to be that when I'd sing in my house, all the neighbors would yell —'Shut the window!' I sing at the top of my lungs. I really blast. But now they all yell—'Open the window!' I guess they figure they're getting something for free."

TV NOTES

"The Challenge of Space" is the title of the first of this season's "Wide Wide World" series on NBC; Sept. 15 from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

ABC will display a series of man-to-man golf matches involving prominent players beginning Oct. 12, 4 to 5 p.m. The matches will be filmed especially for TV during play Sept. 3 to 6 at Apple Valley, Calif., and at Las Vegas.

"Beat the Clock" on CBS changes from a once-a-week evening show to a five-a-week afternooner Sept. 16. The new time will be 2 to 2:30 p. m., Mondays through Fridays.

Giant Beans

CHICAGO (UP)—Louis La Berbera's two grandchildren probably think he could grow money on trees if he wanted. La Berbera has already cultivated a reasonable facsimile of Jaok and the beanstalk in his backyard — with some pole beans that stretch out to 19 inches.
